Playwright to Be First Onteora Forum Speaker

A former Kingston resident who has reached stardom as a playwright and author of many successful Hollywood films, will be guest speaker at the opening series of programs Wednesday, Jan. 30, at Onteora Central School, at 7:30 p. m.

Howard E. Koch, who wrote, among others, Warner Brothers' "Casablanca," which won the film capital's top awards in 1943, will speak on "How to Make Enemies—or Friends," according to William H. Deming, director of the adult education program at Onteora.

Mr. Koch, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Koch, who formerly resided on Schryver Court, was educated in Kingston public schools and was a high honor graduate of Bard College, then St. Stephen's College, Annandale-on-Hudson. He received a degree in law at Columbia University and was admitted to the bar.

In addition to "Casablanca," other top films credited to Mr. Koch include "No Sad Songs for Me," "The Sea Hawk," "Letter From an Unknown Woman," "Mission to Moscow" and "Dark Victory." He was a Samuel Goldwyn studio constant for the highly successful "Best Years of Our Lives."

Mr. Koch, whose talk will be the first in a series of 10 at Onteora, also has had broad experience in the dramatic field.

He wrote Orson Welles' panic broadcast, "Invasion From Mars," in 1938 and has written radio plays for the Mercury Theatre of the Air; has had three plays produced on Broadway, one in London and one in Chicago. The last one presented on Broadway, written with John Huston, was "In Time to Come," a drama on Woodrow Wilson and the League of Nations.

His "Invasion From Mars"

broadcast led to a contract offer from Warner Brothers in 1940.

While in Hollywood, Mr. Koch married Anne Greene, a radio and television writer. They have one son, 9.

At the present time, Mr. Koch is at work on a new play for Broadway production.

For the past four years the Koch family has been in England, France, Italy and Germany.

Approval Seen for Ike Plan Comprehensive Measures Asked

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee called on the Eisenhower administration today to set forth "positive and comprehensive measures for dealing with the Middle East."

An outline of such measures should be submitted to Congress and the United Nations, the committee said in a report endorsing President Eisenhower's resolution designed to combat Communist expansion in the Middle East.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) had said earlier he believes a Senate inquiry into administration Middle East policy will follow Congress' action on Eisenhower's military-economic proposals for that area.

Endorsed Thursday

The House Foreign Affairs group generally supported both the military and economic sections of the resolution in a report today following its 24-2 endorsement of the measure Thursday night. The resolution is expected to come before the House Tuesday.

With House leaders of both parties backing it, approval there is regarded as almost certain.

Fulbright conceded, in an interview, that he does not have sufficient votes to defer action on the Eisenhower resolution, now the subject of hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees.

Sees Inquiry Approval
"But I think the inquiry will be approved," he said.

Fulbright said he would seek approval for the policy review Monday when the two committees meet.

Consolidation Is W. Hurley Topic

The Greater Kingston Area Consolidation Committee will hold a public meeting at Union Free School No. 5, West Hurley, at 8 p. m. Monday, it was announced today.

The meeting is one of a series being held in rural districts to discuss consolidation with Kingston.

School Districts 1, 6 and 8, town of Hurley, have also been invited to participate in the meeting, it was reported.

Members of the consolidation committee expected to attend are Roy Feddes, chairman, Mrs. James Foster, member of the committee, Norman Hammond, member speaker, and Dan Morehouse, chairman of the public relations committee.

The meeting will be held in the school auditorium. All interested persons in the area are invited to attend.

The rural district meetings are of a general informational nature. Consolidation is discussed, brochures distributed, question-and-answer periods provided.

A number of general meetings in rural districts have already been held—Old Hurley, Woodstock, Sawkill, Rosendale No. 1 (upper Sawkill), Rosendale No. 2, Tillson School and Esopus No. 1.

Bingo Fight In Dutchess Is Underway

Fifteen people from Dutchess county will attend a two-day legislative seminar in Albany next week to study and coordinate action against legalizing bingo in New York state.

This has been announced by the Rev. Lavern C. Dibble, minister of the Wappingers Falls Methodist Church and president of the Dutchess County Council of Churches.

Opens Monday
The seminar is scheduled Monday and Tuesday, the Rev. Mr. Dibble said to gather background and coordinate the fight against bingo.

He said the Dutchess Council and County Ministerial Association would be represented at the annual Assembly of State Council of Churches in Albany on Wednesday.

To Continue Drive
Members of the Dutchess County Council of Churches executive committee at a meeting in Poughkeepsie Thursday night decided to create a county-wide committee to lead a fight against legalizing bingo in the state.

The Rev. Mr. Dibble said the organization's primary target will be to defeat the bingo bill when it goes before the Senate and Assembly for its final approval.

If this effort fails, and the bingo bill issue goes to voters this fall in a referendum, the Council of Churches will continue its fight at the polls, the minister said.

To Take in Civic Groups
He also said it is the plan of the executive committee to form a county-wide anti-bingo committee which would be composed of civic groups as well as religious organizations.

Resolutions of the executive committee will be supported by the actions of church groups throughout Dutchess, he added.

The central committee, which will spearhead the campaign, will be composed of the Rev. Mr. Dibble as president of the Church Council, and the presidents of the County Ministerial Association, United Council of Church Women, and Men's Brotherhoods.

It is the intention of the Council to purchase literature for distribution and furnish speakers against legalizing bingo.

Son Is Convinced Parents Not Spies

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Lawrence Soble says he can't believe his mother and father were members of a Soviet spy ring operating in the United States.

The blond youth says he is "more than 100 per cent certain that my father and mother aren't spies."

The boy's father, Jack Soble, 53, his mother, Myra, 52, and Jacob Albam, 64, all of New York city, were arrested by the FBI yesterday. They were charged with collecting information about the national defense for purposes of transmitting the information to the Soviet Union or its agents.

He Would Know
The Soble youngster, a senior at Rhodes Preparatory School in Manhattan, spoke freely about his parents.

"If they had any crooked dealings, I would have known about it," he said. "Spies... what are they spying on? What they saw in the street?"

The Sobles and Albam were held in $100,000 bail each as the FBI hinted others might be involved in the alleged spy ring.

U. S. Atty. Paul Williams said the "upper members" of the alleged espionage group "are not at the present time identifiable."

Evidence Shown
In Washington, Sergei R. Striganov, Soviet counselor, was reported to the State Department and reportedly confronted with evidence involving Soviet officials in the case.

In Montreal, Mrs. Hessel Chasen, sister of Jack Soble, said the boy's parents "were a happy couple and they were very proud of being Americans." Soble and Albam were born in Lithuania, Mrs. Soble in Russia.

The FBI said the Sobles entered the United States on visas issued in Kobe, Japan, in 1941 and became citizens in 1947. Their son was born in Lithuania.

Dates Back to 1947
The FBI accuses the Sobles and Albam of a conspiracy dating back to 1947, the year Albam entered the country. No details were made available by the FBI as to the nature of the espionage activities allegedly carried out by the three.

Albam filed for American citizenship in 1951, three years after marrying an American citizen. The Albam have no children.

Williams said, however, that Soble "replaced the second secretary of the Soviet embassy, Vasily M. Zubilin, as a dominant figure in the espionage ring after World War 2."

Zubilin began work at the

Tour Made On Safety Of Span

Authority to Use
Signs, Reflectors

The Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge will be opened to traffic next week, it was announced today by Ernest M. Heppner, of 35 Crane street, a member of the New York State Bridge Authority.

Mr. Heppner's announcement followed an inspection of the bridge facility Friday by engineers of the New York State Department of Public Works, traffic officials of the New York State Police and members of the bridge authority.

Safety Studied
"The inspection was made to bring to a conclusion the investigation that we have been conducting as to whether or not we could safely open the bridge to traffic in the dark without electric lights," Mr. Heppner said.

"It was agreed, after the inspection, that we would place a generous quantity of speed limit signs on the approaches and bridge and also reflectors at frequent intervals and keep it open around the clock," he said.

Mr. Heppner indicated it will take considerable work to have the signs and reflectors ready and in place.

Can't Pinpoint Day
"We cannot, at this time, pinpoint just what day we can have it open but we know that it will be the last days of the coming week," Mr. Heppner said.

He noted that "all of the wood curbing that is used where the concrete was not poured is now completed."

Those making the two-hour inspection of the bridge included Kurt Rauer, district engineer of the Poughkeepsie office of the New York State Department of Public Works; Joseph Murphy, supervising engineer; George Cox, traffic engineer; Capt. Robert Annett, of the Albany office, New York State Police; Sgt. P. R. Vandemark, traffic supervisor of Troop C, Sidney, New York State Police; Edward Burns, executive officer of the bridge authority, and Mr. Heppner.

Desmond Backs Bridge
State Senator Thomas C. Desmond of Newburgh said Friday he was "solidly" behind a Beacon-Newburgh Bridge and would support legislation to pass the $36 million to loan to the Bridge Authority to construct the span in Newburgh.

Meanwhile, John S. Stillman, a member of the New York State Bridge Authority, said he will continue his drive for a B-N span when he goes to Albany Monday to confer with State

Over '55 Total
Thruway Revenue
Nets $26,448,313

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26—The New York State Thruway Authority announced today that its revenue from operation of the cross-State superhighway in 1956 totalled $26,448,313.20, a 59 per cent increase from 1955.

Authority Chairman B. D. Tallamy, in a year-end report, noted that $21,977,585.97 of the total comprised toll revenue, a 63 per cent increase from the $13,484,811.48 of the previous year. Overall 1956 revenue was $16,636,222.01.

During 1956, 32,126,142 vehicle trips totalling 1,418,747,303 miles were made on the expressway between New York city and Buffalo. The trip total was 125 per cent higher than the 14,287,393 recorded in 1955. Mileage was up 54 per cent over the estimated 918,501,982 of 1955.

In addition to the toll revenue, the Authority sold 62,916 of its $20 annual permits for $1,258,320, and received $3,212,407.23 from restaurant and gasoline concessions and other income.

The totals are subject to minor adjustment as a result of final audit.

Of the 1956 toll total, $6,295,515.15 was realized from commercial vehicles on the thruway, compared to $3,936,704 in 1955. The Authority sold 40,212 of its $20 annual permits in 1955.

During 1956, the operating mileage was increased from 424 to 427. The final three miles of the New York-Buffalo section through Yonkers were opened to traffic August 31.

Elderly Man Dies, Rescued From Fire

Walter Riel, 77, of 224 Fair street, one of five elderly persons rescued from the fire which badly damaged the 18-room Bidwell Nursing Home, 28 West Chestnut street, Thursday morning, and which, Fire Chief James M. Brett said today, was possibly caused by an overheated chimney, died last night at Kingston hospital.

Mr. Riel, who was taken to the hospital for treatment of smoke poisoning, was pronounced dead Friday at 11:29 p. m. by a physician.

Funeral Monday
Funeral services will be held Monday at 3 p. m. at the parlors of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p. m.

Out Nine Days Judge Dismisses Deadlocked Jury

San Diego, Jan. 26 (AP)—The long deadlocked Latham kidnapping jury was dismissed late yesterday and two accused women, one weeping, were led back to jail.

Superior Judge John A. Hewicker told the jury he did not know whether Mrs. Beatrice Winn, 57, and Mrs. Lucille Whisenand, 36, would be tried again.

The jury had spent 71 hours in actual deliberation, over a period of 9 days.

It reported it was deadlocked 7 to 5 on all counts—that the two women kidnapped Mrs. Ruth E. Latham, 52, attempted to murder her, robbed her and burglarized her home.

Mrs. Latham, wife of wealthy George Latham, 56, who specializes in investments in real estate trust deeds, testified that the two women kidnapped her Sept. 12, bound her and buried her alive under rocks in a desert.

She said she escaped with "prayer-given strength" and made her way across the desert east of here, without clothing, food or water until she reached U. S. Highway 80.

The defense attorneys declared Mrs. Latham's kidnapping story was a hoax and inferred that her husband was involved.

Assembly Seen Postponing Youth Court Act to 1958

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck says he believes the Assembly will pass legislation postponing to April 1, 1958, the effective date of the Youth Court.

He said yesterday he had no doubt both houses would approve a postponement measure before the act's scheduled effective time next Friday.

Heck declined to speculate on whether the Senate would vote for postponement to Jan. 1, 1958, as recommended by a Senate committee, or agree with the House on the later date.

Earlier, Chairman Malcolm Wilson of the Assembly Codes Committee said there was "a great deal of sentiment" in his house for repeal of the act but Heck said he was sure Gov. Harriman would veto any repeal legislation.

Harriman "came out strong for the bill when he signed it" last year, Heck said.

Harriman has suggested postponement to Jan. 1.

The Youth Court Act provides for special treatment of persons 16 through 20 who are charged with crimes. Offenses punishable by death and some minor offenses are excluded.

The 1956 Legislature passed the act on recommendation of the temporary commission on the courts.

Opposition developed in law enforcement, judicial and other governmental agencies. Newspaper groups protested that secrecy provisions went too far.

Some governmental units complained the act would be too expensive and difficult to administer.

Danger Spots Are Apparent In Business

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The boom was still rolling along this week, but signposts warned of possible danger spots ahead.

Two big questions loomed: Would consumers keep on spending freely? And would business firms curtail their spending programs?

While business over-all showed signs of luster, some weak spots were apparent.

Only Ford Works Overtime
Most of the big auto makers were holding their output down. Only one—Ford—scheduled overtime production.

Manufacturers' inventories in many lines had climbed faster than sales. There were new signs of glut in the consumer market for home appliances and television sets. The production fell below the levels of a year ago. Cotton mills slowed their operations.

A downward trend in new orders for machine tools pointed to a slower tempo of industrial expansion in the coming months. A Dun & Bradstreet survey found leading business executives looking for slimmer profits despite increased sales. The stock market showed no inclination to rally.

Costs Continue Upward
Against this background, costs of many goods and services continued to move up.

On the consumer front, the government reported that the cost of living (as measured by its "consumer price index") reached a new record high last month. At 118 per cent of the 1947-49 average, the index had climbed 3 per cent during the past year, and about 3½ per cent since 1953 when President Eisenhower first took office.

Housing Figures In
Increased housing costs were held responsible for the December rise.

Evan Clague, chief of the Bureau of Labor Statics (BLS), ventured the guess that living costs would go still higher this month and next. Reduced prices made possible by department and appliance store bargain sales, he said, would probably be offset by the rising cost of food, coal and oil.

Oil and gasoline price in-

St. Paul's Church Will Install Rev. Olney Cook

REV. OLNEY E. COOK

Installation of the Rev. Olney E. Cook as pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church will be held Sunday at the church at 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. Mr. Cook, a graduate of Wittenberg College and Hanna Divinity School in Springfield, Ohio, was ordained in 1928 at Johnstown. Since that time he has served churches at Middleburgh, Ellenville, Chatham and Woodstock.

14 Years at Woodstock
During his 14 years as pastor of Christ Lutheran, Woodstock, Sunday school was started which has grown in enrollment and attendance. The congregation of about 20 at the first service in 1942 has increased many times that number through the years. A senior choir was organized and later a junior and a cherub choir were organized. The Missionary Society has had a steady growth during his tenure.

Among the many things accomplished was the building of a modern parsonage, the installation of new organ, and the covering of a new red carpet on the church floor. Other additions consisted of a bulletin board, new lights, new steps with iron railings and hymnals.

Participants Listed
At the installation, the Rev. Paul M. Young, Jr., of Hudson, and a son of the congregation, will be the speaker. The Rev. Clayton G. VanDeusen of Albany and president of the Eastern Conference will conduct the order for installation. Others assisting in the service will be the Rev. William C. J. Weidt, area director of Lutheran Refugee Service and the Rev. Forrest R. Prindle, president of the Kingston area Ministerial Association. Special music will be offered.

The public is invited to attend this service.

Protestants Mark 100th Anniversary Of Church Council

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 26—Hundreds of clergymen and lay leaders from throughout New York state, representing more than 1,500,000 members of the Protestant faith, will gather in Albany for three days of special convocations including a salute to the 100th anniversary of the New York State Council of Churches from January 28 through 30.

Protestant leaders will meet with State Legislators and judicial and administrative officials at the 10th annual Churchmen's Legislative Seminar to discuss important sociological and moral problems affecting the welfare of all citizens of New York state, January 28 and 29.

January 30 representatives of the century-old State Council of Churches, with a membership of 4,800 churches of 16 denominations throughout the state, will hold their annual meeting and a special luncheon observance of the 100th anniversary of the Council.

The seminar sets the atmosphere for a thorough examination and exchange of ideas on problems relating to justice for the family, public education, gambling and alcoholism.

On Wednesday the Council of Churches will meet to elect officers for the coming year and to report on activities during the past 12-month period. Doctor Barnes will be guest speaker at the centennial luncheon.

The Council, with headquarters in Syracuse, is composed of representatives of 16 denominations, over 90 county and city Protestant Church Councils, and representatives of Protestant organizations serving as a voice for Protestantism throughout the state.

He is associated with the Word of Life Fellowship, Inc., a Christian organization which sponsors the Word of Life radio broadcast over a network of stations; conducts three camps in the Adirondacks; holds rallies and campaigns in various parts of the country and helps to support missionaries.

The film also sponsored by the Word of Life movement depicts the life of a teenage delinquent who finds himself on the Word of Life Island.

The public is invited.

St. James Church To Hear Noted Methodist Leader

DR. DANIEL D. BROX

Superintendent of The Bethel Home, Ossining, the Rev. Dr. Daniel D. Brox will be the guest preacher in St. James Church Sunday at the 11 o'clock worship service.

Dr. Brox came to the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Church from the superintendency of the Troy Annual Conference in 1955 when The Bethel Home was in need of a leader for the purpose of raising a $1,500,000 fund for the construction of a new building to house approximately 100 aged people of Methodist origins.

Held Pastorates Nearby
He has held pastorates in Hamburg, North Adams, Mass., New Amsterdam, and holds the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws, from the California College of Commerce 1952. Trained at Nebraska Wesleyan University and Boston University School of Theology, he has a record of distinguished service in The Methodist Church.

Representing the New York Area in the initial planning of the Methodist College for Alaska, he also was chairman of the committee on investigating the cost of establishing and maintaining homes for the aged. His subject is, "The Right to Be Loved." He will present the work and future of the Bethel Home for the Aged to the St. James congregation.

New members will be received into the church at this service.

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

SPILLING THE SOUP

I wonder why it is that the unpleasant things make a bigger and more lasting impression upon us than the things we enjoy. Why is it that the memory is jogged more by the things we don't like than it is by the things we like? This represents a strange quirk, a basic distortion in our make-up. "It is a sad quality of human nature," writes Peter Howard, "that if a man enjoys a first-rate dinner, but has the soup spilt down his neck, that is the part he remembers."

The wife may prepare and serve a yearly round of luscious meals and they are all gobbled down in silence. But let something go wrong, and the quality of the culinary products slip just once, and she hears about it! All those times when the palate was delighted are forgotten. But let something happen, either in the kitchen or the dining room, and the old complaint factory gets shifted into high gear. Unspilt soup speaks in a tiny, weak, unremembered voice; whereas soup that gets spilt roars with a tremendous utterance which makes a lasting impression upon the memory.

To Quiz Cruise Ship Passengers on Service

San Francisco, Jan. 26 (AP)—The cruise ship Leilani was due today at Acapulco, Mexico. The owners planned to interview each passenger regarding ship-board conditions.

Eighteen passengers were hospitalized earlier this week. More than 44 others left the vessel at Panama City complaining about "overcrowded, unsanitary" conditions and a "surly" crew.

Blame Tropical Sun
The Hawaiian Steamship Co. said three physicians aboard the ship blamed the tropical sun—not food poisoning—for the illnesses.

It quoted messages from Drs. Roland G. Davison, San Francisco; Willard G. Snow, Sausalito, Calif.; and Louis Daley, of Connecticut.

Their conclusion: Most of the illnesses were caused by a combination of overexposure, eating food left too long in the sun, and over-consumption of ice drinks when the ship passed through the Panama Canal.

Territorial Sen. Herbert Lee of Honolulu was quoted as saying he "thoroughly enjoyed the cruise . . . it was smooth, delightful."

The ship, on its maiden voyage, is en route to the west coast from the eastern seaboard where it was given a 4-million-dollar facelift for service as a tourist class liner between Hawaii and the west coast.

In Acapulco to meet it is Elmer J. Martin, company president, who flew there from San Francisco Thursday. He said he planned an intensive investigation.

New Cold Front Moving Eastward

(By The Associated Press)

Biting cold numbed vast sections in the western three quarters of the country today. A mid-winter mass of Arctic air sent temperatures tumbling to sub-zero levels.

The below zero belt extended from Idaho to Lake Michigan and southward through Nebraska and Iowa. Montana was the hardest hit by the icy blasts. Temperatures dropped into the 40 to 50 below range in some areas. The Weather Bureau said no immediate relief was indicated from the state's most prolonged cold waves.

The mercury plunged to -41 at Helena, Montana's capital city, during the night and readings to 50 below were forecast in southwestern sections of the state. An unofficial -62 was reported at Sand Coulee in central Montana yesterday morning.

The cold air continued its southeastward movement from the Plains and temperatures were lower through the Ohio Valley. Readings averaged about 18 degrees lower than yesterday morning. The frigid air headed eastward and was expected to cover all but the extreme southeast section of the country by tonight.

Union Leaders To Check Defense Tests at Sea

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 26 (AP)—The navy is outdoing itself this year for labor union leaders assembled at Miami Beach for their annual winter meeting.

In the past the navy has brought in destroyers, mine sweepers and even submarines to Miami to take winter-conventioning union men for a day's ride over the sunny Atlantic waves.

But this time the navy is putting on a production—an aircraft carrier with half a dozen destroyers escorts, together with helicopters manned by marines to ferry labor people out to sea. This perhaps indicates a feeling by the navy of the growing importance of organized labor on the American scene since the AFL-CIO merger.

But the navy's explanation, in an official invitation to AFL-CIO leaders, is this:

"The annual cruise is part of the navy's program to keep the nearly 15 million members of organized labor and their families informed of the mission and work of the navy in the nation's defense."

Woman Collapses In Saugerties, Dies at Hospital

Mrs. Florence Cole, 66, of RD 3, Box 141, Saugerties, died at Kingston Hospital at 6:40 p. m. Friday shortly after collapsing on Market street in the village of Saugerties.

It was reported that she had just been shopping and was walking along Market street near the home of Dr. Lester Sonking when she collapsed to the sidewalk in what was listed as a "cerebral accident."

Mrs. Cole, a widow, was rushed to Kingston Hospital by Layton ambulance. Admission at the hospital was at 5 p. m.

Coroner Michael Galletta is withholding a verdict pending autopsy, it was reported.

Funeral services will be held from Seamon Funeral Home, Saugerties, at 2 p. m. Monday with the Rev. George P. Werner, pastor of the Methodist Church officiating. Burial will be in Chestnut Hill Cemetery on the Woodstock road.

Mrs. Cole is survived by a brother, Fred Walters of Stony Branch.

42 Land Safely

The funeral will be held at parlor of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Tuesday at 1:30 p. m. Burial will be in St. Remy Cemetery. Friends may call Monday between 7 and 9 p. m.

Miss Marie Unbekannt

Miss Marie Unbekannt, 60, of Horsenden road, New Paltz, died Friday evening at her home after a short illness. She was a daughter of the late Carl and Mary Kurt Unbekannt, and was born in Germany. She had lived in this country over 50 years. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Julius Rippler of New Paltz and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. from the Pine Funeral Home, New Paltz, with a Mass or requiem at St. Joseph's Church at 10 a. m. Burial will be in Fair View Cemetery, Cliffsides, N. J. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Catherine M. Krom

Mrs. Catherine M. Krom, 59, of 15 Broadhead avenue, New Paltz, widow of Frank Krom, died Friday morning at her home following a short illness. She was a daughter of the late James and Ellen Mansfield. Surviving are a son, Walter of Wappingers Falls; two daughters, Ellen and Rose of New Paltz; a brother, Joseph Mansfield, New York city and two sisters, Mrs. A. W. Griffith and Mrs. Alvery Dedrick, both of Westport, Conn.; also three grandchildren. Friends may call Sunday afternoon. Funeral will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at Pine Funeral Home, New Paltz. Burial will be in New Paltz Rural Cemetery.

Mother Mary Shannahan

Mother Mary Aloysius Shannahan of the Society of St. Ursula of the Blessed Virgin died Friday at the convent of St. Ursula, 26 Grove street. She was the daughter of the late Edward and Mary Shannahan. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. James McNamara and Miss Rita Shannahan of Providence, R. I. She entered the Society of St. Ursula July 31, 1917 and received a Master's Degree at Fordham University, New York city. She had been teaching in the Archdiocese of New York for the past 37 years. In 1928 she was assigned to the Academy of St. Ursula and later became the mistress general. In 1946 she was appointed superior of Notre Dame Convent School, New York city and in 1952 she returned to Kingston to assume the direction of the academy. A solemn requiem Mass will be offered in the convent chapel at 10 a. m. Monday. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call at the convent at any time.

Mrs. Sarah Creeden

Mrs. Sarah Creeden, 70, of 4 Grove street, New Paltz, died Friday night at St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, after a long illness. Mrs. Creeden, the widow of Jeremiah Creeden, was born in Ireland, the daughter of the late Henry and Sally Lally O'Neill. She had lived in New York city many years, but had made her home in New Paltz the last 10 years. She was a member of St. Joseph's Church and a Rosarian. Surviving are a son, John of the Bronx; two daughters, Mrs. James McLaughlin, New York city, and Mrs. Roselle Coulough of New Paltz; also six grandchildren. Funeral will be held Monday at 9:30 a. m. from Pine Funeral Home, New Paltz, with a Mass of requiem at St. Joseph's Church at 10 a. m. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale. The Rosary will be recited Sunday at 8 p. m. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday afternoon and evening.

Jordan Approves Pact

Amman, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Jordan Senate unanimously approved today the inter-Arab agreement signed in Cairo Jan. 19 under which Egypt, Syria and Saudi Arabia will grant Jordan 36 million dollars annually for a minimum period of 10 years to replace the British subsidy. The Jordan Lower House approved the agreement Jan. 22.

Moscow, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Soviet press and radio carried nothing today on the FBI's arrest of three persons in New York on a charge of spying for the Soviet Union.

Truck Driver Is Injured After Skidding Mishap

Frederick Swibold, 60, of 16 Kierstedt avenue was taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, Friday afternoon with injuries suffered when a gasoline tanker he was driving skidded on icy pavement on Route 209 a mile and a half north of Kerhonkson and turned over several times.

It was reported that Mr. Swibold suffered lacerations and contusions of the scalp and bruises of both shin bones.

Trooper R. Juna of the Ellenville state police said Mr. Swibold was thrown from the cab of the 1954 tanker truck when it turned over the first time.

State police reported that Mr. Swibold was proceeding north on Route 209 when the truck skidded, went over the embankment on the right side of the road and plunged downhill for 200 feet, turning over several times.

The truck was badly damaged. A piece of fire equipment from the Kerhonkson Fire Department was sent to the scene to standby in case of fire. Time of the mishap was listed as 3:30 p. m.

tees meet in closed session to continue their questioning of Secretary of State Dulles. Dulles is opposed to any such review on grounds it would harm U. S. relations with the British and French.

Dulles Urges Action

Again and again, Dulles has urged the committee not to "bog down" consideration of the Middle East resolution with details that he said might "destroy its usefulness."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said he would resist any effort to start a general policy study until after Congress acts on the resolution. "Whatever mistakes, if any, were made in the past shouldn't be allowed to delay action now," he said. "The President's request to counter any possible aggression by the Communists in a very dangerous situation," Aiken said.

Hearing In Recess

The Senate hearing was in recess today, but the House Foreign Affairs Committee arranged to meet behind closed doors to try to finish work on its report on the Eisenhower resolution.

The House committee two days ago voted overwhelming approval of the resolution in just about the form the Eisenhower administration proposed it. House debate is expected to get under way next Tuesday.

Eisenhower has asked Congress for advance authority to use American troops to help any Middle East nation which asks such aid in repelling open Communist aggression. He also has requested authority to use up to 200 million dollars in available funds to bolster the defenses and economies of Middle East nations. This money would be spent by June 30. The administration wants to spend another 400 million on military and economic aid to the area over the next two years.

Morse for Substitute

Yesterday, Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), a critic of the Eisenhower program for the Middle East, offered what amounts to a complete substitute for the administration's proposal.

Under the Morse plan, Eisenhower would be directed to "give notice" to Congress before using American troops in the Middle East. If advance notice is impossible, the President would be directed to "submit his action" for congressional "approval or disapproval" later.

Initial Steps Taken To Give Poland Credit

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP)—The United States is taking "preparatory steps" toward selling farm goods and certain machine equipment to Poland on credit.

This was disclosed yesterday in an exchange of letters between President Eisenhower and Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Eisenhower's letter said such aid "unquestionably . . . will strengthen the security and peace of the world." It was in reply to letters from Gordon urging aid to the Poles in the form of surplus farm products and shipments through voluntary agencies such as CARE.

Eisenhower said "the Polish government has indicated a desire" to buy on credit "such things as cotton, wheat, fats and oils, fertilizer, farm machinery and coal mining equipment."

"Such transactions, on which preparatory steps are under way," he continued, "would ease economic difficulties of the Polish people, again demonstrate our interest in their wellbeing, and clearly reveal that the door remains open to a closer relationship with the United States and with the West, in economic as well as other fields."

Poland's Communist government last year negotiated an agreement with Russia permitting a limited but greater degree of freedom from Soviet domination.

May Bring Out Victims Today From Plane Crash

Rome, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Griffiss Air Force base had tentative plans today for bringing down bodies of seven airmen killed Tuesday when their plane crashed in the Adirondack Mountains.

Investigators, including medical teams, yesterday inspected the wreckage on a remote mountainside about 40 miles north-east of here.

The base said the victims had to be identified before the bodies were removed.

The KC-97 tanker plane crashed while waiting instructions to land at Griffiss after a training flight from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., where the seven crew members were stationed.

The wreckage was first spotted Thursday.

All of the dead were stationed at Westover. They were: Maj. Charles D. Mellinger, 40, Tacoma, Wash.; 1st Lieut. Fred W. Defrench, 25, Bedford, Ohio; Maj. Roland L. Ughart Jr., 36, West Warwick, R. I.; Lt. Alvin C. Stewart, 23, Palestine, Tex.; Sgt. L. K. Bergstrom, 35, West Caldwell, N. J.; Sgt. Raymond E. Noah, 23, Paducah, Ky.; and Sgt. Joel V. Blackwell, 23, Clairton, Pa. Mellinger was commander and Defrench the co-pilot.

Public Works Department officials.

He added that he also will try to arrange a conference with Budget Director Appleby.

Sen. Desmond's support on behalf of the Beacon-Neuburg bridge was indicated in the movement of Orange County Assemblyman D. Clinton Dominick 3rd, State Senator Ernest I. Hatfield and Dutchess County Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy.

Sees Big Support

"I feel all three are doing the best they can," Sen. Desmond said and added, "I think Gov. Harriman also is doing all he can. There is enormous support in this area for a Beacon-Neuburg Bridge."

"Efforts to get the funds for the bridge should be made on a bi-partisan basis and I don't think politics should enter into it," the senator concluded.

291 Paid Fines

Of the arrests 291 paid fines, 152 were committed to jail, 265 were given suspended sentences, 80 were discharged, 27 charges were withdrawn, 130 forfeited bail and 20 cases went to the grand jury.

The report lists 179 cases as still pending and 33 referred to children's court. Of those arrested, 1,166 were male and 50 female.

Last December's report showed 58 arrests, 17 of which were for public intoxication and 16 for violations of the vehicle and traffic law. Five arrests were for third degree assault, six for disorderly conduct and six for violations of the city traffic code. One arrest each was listed for first and second degree assault, and one for driving while intoxicated.

Of those arrested 13 were fined, eight were committed to jail, 10 given suspended sentences, nine were discharged and four forfeited bail. Ten cases were pending.

Member of Association

She is a charter member of the Capital District Nursing Home Association, membership in which is required for nursing homes in this area in order to be recognized by the state organization, she said.

George Montague, of Round Lake, near Ballston Spa, is president of the state association, Mrs. VanHorn said.

The property a few years ago was valued at approximately $35,000. Fire loss was heaviest in the upper part of the structure, but it was indicated that damage does not approach a total loss state.

Burns Through Roof

The fire, which started in a first-floor, rear bedroom, burned up through two other floors, but through a section of roof.

Two alarms mobilized all paid department units plus several volunteer companies.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang yesterday praised firemen, both paid and volunteer, and members of the police department for "their excellent work."

Police said yesterday that a test of a souvenir type bomb found in the house showed that its powder had been removed. The test was made at Stewart Air Field, near Newburgh to determine definitely that the bomb could have in way figured in the blaze.

Pressure Is Noted

San Francisco, Jan. 26 (AP)—A government attorney says a defense lawyer in the Powell section case is trying to force the United States to "premature recognition" of Red China. Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert H. Schnacke made the charge yesterday at a hearing before Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman. Defense Attorney A. L. Wirin has asked the court to direct the State Department to grant him a passport into Communist China.

Man Is Sentenced For Malicious Mischief

John Yager, 60, of West Saugerties, who was convicted on a charge of malicious mischief Wednesday night by a six-man jury, was sentenced to 60 days yesterday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Percy M. Abel, all of 10 days of which was suspended.

Mr. Yager, who was found guilty of removing a stone from the wall of a neighbor, Arthur Schaller, trampling shrubbery and inflicting other damage to Mr. Schaller's property, was committed to Ulster County Jail.

Mr. Yager was arrested Sept. 28, 1956 by Trooper Raymond Kowalski of Kingston state police on complaint of Mr. Schaller.

Attorney G. Thomas Rea Jr., appeared for the defendant and Ernest E. Schirmer for the plaintiff.

get the line on its feet. The railroad now only hauls freight.

It runs from Weehawken, N. J., through Cornwall, Kingston, Port Jervis, Rome, Utica, N. Y., to Oswego, N. Y., with a branch to Scranton, Pa. The line has about 1,100 employees.

When it went bankrupt in 1937, its debts totaled more than 33 million dollars. Since then, Oakes said, it has accumulated about 11 millions more in debts.

Oakes said the biggest price ever offered for the road by a prospective purchaser was six million dollars. Since World War 2, he said, the O & W has purchased 24 new diesel locomotives and numerous other units.

The federal government, one of the creditors, sued to reclaim the railroad for 7 1/2 million dollars in unpaid taxes. It was on this suit that Judge Conger ordered the line handed over to the receivers.

Named receivers were attorney James B. Kilsheimer, a former asst. U. S. atty., and Jacob Grumet, former general sessions court judge. They will handle the road for the creditors, under court supervision.

THE LAW FOR ATOMS

The legislative bodies of numerous states are in session now. None has been heard to bemoan any lack of issues to deal with. Most of them seem to be swamped with demands that will require the piling up of more and more laws.

In a situation like this, anyone who points out an entirely new area that will soon be demanding legislation is not likely to be popular with lawmakers. All the same, it is well worth noting that every state in the Union will have to take up the whole complicated business of atomic legislation before long.

Some states already are beginning to cope with this problem. A few have adopted preliminary legislation, though no atomic power plants are as yet operating. Some guidance in this field is offered by a model bill which the Council of State Governments has drafted. This provides for appointment of a state coordinator of atomic activities, and for studies by state agencies which will be affected by the atomic power development.

The questions involved are numerous and difficult. Workmen's compensation, for example, becomes a special problem when it relates to an overdose of radiation whose ill effects may not be apparent until months or years have passed. Insurance, taxation, power rates, public health and the conservation of wildlife—these also pose difficulties for the legislators.

The development of atomic power will be gradual. Hence, there is no great urgency about legislating to deal with it. This does not mean that the states ought to sit back and wait for atomic power to catch up with them. On the contrary, this gradualness of development gives the states a chance to exercise foresight and devote careful thought to atomic problems. It is a chance that we should make the most of.

MIXED RECEPTION

As measured by its reception in the Middle East, the so-called Eisenhower doctrine is neither totally welcome nor wholly unwelcome.

After a two-day meeting, the countries of the Baghdad pact—Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan—declared their support of the President's proposal to defend any Middle Eastern nation with force if requested.

But since these lands have long been eager to see the United States more closely identified with their joint defense pact, this announcement occasions no surprise.

On the other hand, four other countries in the area have gone on record as opposed to Mr. Eisenhower's plan. They include Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

Nothing else would be expected now from the first two, which show marked signs of Communist influence, nor from Jordan, which is pitifully weak.

Arabia is another story. It already has defense ties with America and is heavily dependent on U. S. oil royalties for basic economic support. We must hope that during King Saud's impending visit here we can pry him loose from the hostile tier of Arab states and thus reduce Russia's potential spawning ground in the Middle East.

NEATNESS BY LAW

A great idea may have been born in Madison Heights, Mich. There a policeman, during a cleanup campaign, ticketed 14 homeowners for letting rubbish pile up around their homes. When he returned to check up he was enthusiastically greeted by the housewives.

The gist of what they said was: "I've been trying for years to get that lazy man to clean up the yard, and your ticket did it. Now can you give him a ticket so he'll paint the house?"

Of course, if the police force becomes the agent of wives trying to get their husbands to perform long deferred household tasks, the city government will be endeared to the women. On the other hand, in the secrecy of the voting booth, it may lose the votes of all the men.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

IBN SAUD

It used to be that the rulers stayed to home and sent their ambassadors hither and yon to do their business. Nowadays the rulers have taken to travelling, particularly to this country and to Soviet Russia. Ibn Saud, it is announced, is carrying 15 trunks of gifts for President Eisenhower which may include some valuable articles and also some junk. But a present begets a present, if only to show good manners. So what will Ibn Saud take back with him to please his 40 sons, to say nothing of the daughters, as indeed, one need say nothing of them, they being females without souls but perhaps delectable and soft even as of yore when they disported themselves in pavilions as is described in the "Arabian Nights".

I note that the newspapers say that Ibn Saud has only four wives, which is a Koranic orthodoxy that requires in the West a literal translation of the word, wife. A concubine may be more beloved than a wife and even more useful. I have seen no census of Ibn Saud's harem, but estimates put it at a hundred or so, which is good going. The large number of wives and concubines for one man that I personally knew about in my younger years, as was 33, and once I was in great difficulties, as one of these exalted rulers of the Earth, being pleased with me, and seeking to show how much favor I had gained in his eyes, presented me with one of his ladies.

But what does one do with such a damsel, particularly if one is married and lives in a monogamous society that frowns on plural marriages unless they are sanctioned by the vicifications of a divorce court? I was pulled out of my dilemma by a document with seals and stamps notifying all and sundry that it is criminal in my country to possess more than one woman, although no such restriction is placed on goats, camels, and other quadrupeds.

Ibn Saud left his damsels at home to ride in the desert in golden Cadillacs and to disport themselves as well they may during his absence in the land of the rich infidel, who does not know the words of the only True Prophet, nor for that matter much else, except how to give away money to the Sheriff of Mecca, may his tribe increase, as indeed, it has.

Following upon Ibn Saud we shall be visited by Tito who shot down American planes, killing the Americans in them at a time when we were utterly at peace with him. Tito is a Communist dictator who pursues the cult of personality as it applies to himself but objects to it if applied to Stalin. He put Archbishop Stepinac and other clergymen in prison as a symbol of his defiance of God.

Nobody will really mind Ibn Saud, except that some will regret that he did not bring his harem along as it would be amusing to compare his ladies to Marilyn Monroe or Jayne Mansfield or some others whom that ardent sociologist, Lee Mortimer, describes in his numerous confidential manuscripts.

In New York City, it has been customary for the Mayor to help the State Department out of its dilemma by entertaining these various luminaries. Part of the entertainment consists of a slow cavalcade from the City Hall to the Waldorf Astoria, a matter of maybe five miles, after which a luncheon is served. It would be of some danger to take Tito up those five miles because some Hibernian, to say nothing about Stalin's emissaries from Hell, might get it into his head to do some foul deed to Josip Broz, alias Tito, who is a master of his people and who to date has got one billion dollars out of the American taxpayer.

Tito naturally wants more and now that his fraternal deals with Khrushchev have fallen through and Tito has no Communist allies, he would undoubtedly like to get what he can in Washington, but with no strings attached. What he gets, he wants to get free and clear. It is good going if you can make it, and Tito undoubtedly will as it is now our ambition to share our wealth with anyone who wants a share of it—and who doesn't?

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
DON'T BE A WORRYWART

Yesterday we were discussing mental health, of being sensible in your ambitions and not expecting too much either from yourself or from life. Today I would like to pass on to the suggestion, "Don't Be a Worriwart."

We all know some persons who seem to worry all the time, are chronic worriers. What makes them this way? One explanation has to do with something that might be called an "insecurity complex." In other words, the theory is that their habit of worry stems from a basic lack of inner confidence.

Thus psychologists have found that persons who are harassed by self-doubt and a sense of inadequacy are always trying to find a kind of scapegoat for their anxiety feelings. Because they are inwardly ashamed of their lack of confidence, they shift the blame for their anxiety to things or situations that are outside themselves or presumably beyond their control.

As to what is responsible for the insecurity complex, many leading authorities incline toward the view that it is mainly the result of a person's thinking too much and acting too little. "Thought without action," said the more than 150 years ago, "is a disease." Modern science appears to have confirmed this observation. Thus the condition of the chronic worrier has been described by Dr. Henry C. Link as a person in whom there is "too much energy churning the higher brain centers in vicious circles and not enough energy driving the body to action."

It is easy to see, of course, just how any of us might develop a bad complex if we rarely take definite steps toward translating our thoughts, wishes and ambitions into reality because we will soon come to doubt we ever will realize our aims and goals. If this habit of inaction persists long enough, it is inevitable that we should lose faith in ourselves and feel weak and insecure. We are like a powerful car whose motor is raced all the time without ever being put into gear. "Worry is a kind of mental indigestion brought on by self-frustration."

Learn to stand on your own feet. We realize that self-reliance is no sudden or automatic acquisition, something you get merely because you happen to have reached a certain age. There's only one way to become self-reliant and that is by PRACTICING self-reliance. This means that, first of all, you must be absolutely determined that, from here on out, you will reach and carry out your own decisions, solve your own problems, and meet your obligations and responsibilities, to the very best of your ability. It means, too, that you will follow through on this resolve day after day, hour after hour, in all situations involving matters large or small.

If one or both of your parents insisted on coddling or pampering you, permitted you to shirk disagreeable tasks, and encouraged you to come running home or send out an S.O.S. whenever you got into a jam or life became complicated, you may still be as emotionally dependent as an infant, regardless of your age. So that learning to be self-reliant won't be any fun if you have been accustomed to taking the easy way out but it will do wonders for your outlook on both yourself and life.

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—An increase of between 300 and 400 per cent in the use of electricity in American homes and industry by 1980 is forecast in a new, revised estimate of future U. S. power requirements made by Federal Power Commission.

Translating these consumption figures into dollar requirements to build the additional generating capacity, Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton has released estimates. It will take 40 billion dollars to finance this expansion over the next 10 years.

For the next 20 years, the cost is estimated at 94 billion dollars. Where will all this future power come from? Other FPC studies indicate that 8 1/2 per cent of the total will come from hydroelectric, 77 per cent from conventional fuel plants and 14 1/2 per cent from atomic energy.

It is the expected growth in home consumption of electricity that will be of most interest to the average person.

THE AVERAGE U. S. HOME today uses less than 3,000 kilowatt hours of electricity a year, says the FPC report. But it points out that the completely electrified home—of which there are relatively few today—consumes 20,000 to 25,000 kwh.

FPC experts studied the use of some 20 electric appliances to make their estimates on future home consumption.

It was calculated 14 per cent of U. S. homes might be electrically heated by 1980.

Faster growth of the electric home-heating industry will be held back because, for the next 25 years at least, the cost of electricity will be higher than the cost of competitive fuels, in most parts of the country.

Other increased uses of electricity in the home were forecast for water heating, air conditioning, ranges, refrigerators, television sets, freezers and clothes dryers, in that order.

There are close to 49 million farm and nonfarm homes in the U. S. today, with a population of over 165 million. By 1980, population may reach 228 million and homes may number 60 million.

Farm and nonfarm residential consumption of electricity is expected to increase from a total of 135 billion kwh. in 1955 to an estimated 493 billion kwh. by 1980.

"WITH RISING POPULATION," says the FPC report, "the residential classification may at some time in the distant future overtake the industrial use."

As compared to the 49 million residential customers of electricity today, there are only a few hundred thousand industrial users and some six million commercial users—stores, service establishments and the like.

The number of commercial users is expected to increase by more than 50 per cent, to 9.5 million by 1980. Their electric power consumption is estimated to jump from an average of 13,000 kwh. to 28,000 kwh. per user. Their total consumption will jump from 81 billion kwh. a year to 272 billion kwh. by 1980.

Industrial users are, of course, the big customers. The top 10 per cent use 90 per cent of the power. A steel mill needs 20,000 kilowatts capacity, an aluminum reduction plant 400,000. The biggest atomic energy plants need two million kwh. capacity.

All industrial users, including those that generated their own power, consumed 326 billion kwh. in 1955. But the estimate of industrial power use in 1980 is a whopping 808 billion kwh.

FOR ALL CLASSES of users—home, commercial, industrial and producers of power for their own use—consumption of electricity was 583 billion kwh. in 1955. For 1980 it is expected to be over the trillion mark—an estimated 1,820 billion kwh.

To get these figures down to a more understandable level, per capita consumption of electricity for all purposes was 531 kwh. in 1955. It more than doubled in the next 10 years and was over seven times as great—3,782 kwh. in 1965. By 1980, according to present predictions, it may reach 8,000 kwh. a year for every man, woman and child in the country.

I thought your readers would like to know that Kingston will be mentioned on the Tuesday, January 29th episode of Edgar Bergen's TV show, "Do You Trust Your Wife," Channel 2, 10:30 p. m.

At that time Ken Murray and his wife will be a guest on the program for which I, a proud Kingstonian, am a writer and Kingston will be identified as Ken's home town. This will be in the nature of a reunion for Ken, Kingston and me, because we used to mention this Hudson Valley Vallaha every chance we got on Ken's old Saturday night CBS-TV show.

Of course, we always stretch a point when we say Kingston is Ken's home town. Actually, he was raised by his grand parents in Rosendale, but he did attend Kingston High School for a couple of years in the late 'Teens. That's close enough to rate the identification. I hope Rosendale will forgive us. To be strictly truthful, Ken was born in Brooklyn—but since when does Brooklyn need publicity?

Questions -- Answers

Q—How close to the earth will the newest planet approach?

A—This tiny planet named "Geographos" perhaps no more than a mile in diameter, should come within less than 4 million miles of the earth in 1969. Among astronomical objects, only the moon is closer.

Q—Do ticks feed only upon mammals?

A—About half of the species are parasites; some upon man, some upon man's domesticated animals, and some upon insects.

Q—Which country holds the largest representation in The College of Cardinals?

A—Italy with 21 seats.

Barely Ahead

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The stock market made some feeble efforts to rise this week but they lacked conviction.

Although the market spent three consecutive days on the upside, the total gain was washed out as of noon yesterday; but a slight recovery before the close was enough to put the market barely ahead on the week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 20 cents to $176.20.

The small gain was insignificant in view of the gradual decline this month from $182.00 on Jan. 4.

The month of January seems to be paralleling last year's performance when the average of stock prices declined steadily. Historically, January has not been a lively month. Most years the market scrapes its yearly bottom in January.

This past week was one of low volume. The turnover on three straight days of slight rises was the lowest since the end of November. Slack trading on a rise is always interpreted as a bearish sign.

Special situations were abundant. American Sugar rose 4 1/2%. It plans a 4-for-1 stock split. Anaconda, which plans a rights offering to raise more than 100 million dollars, was up 1 1/2% on the week. There were several others affected by corporate developments.

The five most active stocks on the American Stock Exchange were:

Devon-Palmer Oils, up 1/16 at 2 on 161,400 shares; Northspan Uranium, off 1/16 at 69 1/16; Swan-Finch Oil, up 3/4 at 3 3/4; Barium Steel, up 1/4 at 11; and White Eagle International, off 1/4 at 2 1/4.

The five most active stocks on the New York Stock Exchange were:

U. S. Hoffman Machinery, off 1 1/4 at 13 1/4; '63-500 shares; North American Aviation, unchanged at 34 1/4; General Motors, off 1/4 at 40 1/4; Atlas Corp., up 1 1/4 at 11 1/4; and U. S. Steel, off 1 1/4 at 63 1/4.

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—The trend of corporate and U. S. government bond prices was higher this week. It was the fourth successive week on the upside for corporates and the third for treasury obligations.

The strong firm trend influenced all segments of the bond market, including municipal and corporate new financing and dollar bonds.

In the corporate big board list, industrials moved up strongly during the week, followed by utilities and investment quality issues. Foreign dollar bonds increased slightly but rails slipped sharply to a new low.

Corporate trading declined in volume to $20,281,000 per value on the New York Stock Exchange from $23,015,500 a week ago and $24,327,600 for the corresponding week in 1956.

Long range government bonds picked up more than a point this week despite a slump Thursday and Friday. On Tuesday, long term bonds registered their best single-day advance since June, 1953, when the Federal Reserve Board's credit policy shifted from restraint to ease.

For the week, the government's 40-year, 3 1/2% advanced 1 1/4 to 93 1/4 bid. The victory 2 1/2% of Dec. 1972-76, gained an even point at 91 1/4. The 30-year 3 1/4% moved up 24/32 to 98 1/4. The 2 1/2% of 1963 picked up 8/32 to 94 30/32 bid.

The victory 2 1/2% now yield 3.19 per cent. The 3 1/4% yield 3.28 per cent and the 3 1/2% return 3.30 per cent. At the start of the year, yields of these issues were around 3.50 per cent.

The visible supply of state and municipal offerings for the next 30 days totals $341,617,308 compared with $331,639,362 a week ago. New issues scheduled for public sale this coming week amount to $142,882,570 bonds and $1,022,000 short-term notes, compared with revised totals of $105,265,992 bonds and $117,052,000 notes for the past week, according to the Daily Bond Buyer.

Biggest issue on tap in the municipal market will be the Port of New York Authority's 50 million dollars of 30-year bonds up for auction on Tuesday. The next day, Connecticut will market an issue of $29,153,000 various purpose bonds. On Thursday, Austin, Tex., will take bids on four million dollars of general obligation bonds and $4,650,000 revenue bonds.

In the corporate field, Mount States Telephone & Telegraph Co. will open bids Tuesday on 35 million dollars of debentures. The utility will use the proceeds to repay advances from its corporate parent, American Telephone & Telegraph Co. That same day, Lehman Bros. heads an underwriting group offering 80 million dollars of TransCanada Pipe Lines Ltd. debentures and four million shares of $1 par common stock. The offering will be in units of $100 of debentures and five shares of stock.

On Wednesday, Ohio Edison Co. is to accept bids on a stockholder offering of 580,613 shares of $12 par common stock on the basis of one new share for each 10 held. The next day, Socony Mobil Oil Co. is to offer stockholders $4,379,758 shares of common on a 1-for-10 basis. Morgan Stanley & Co. will head a group set to take up any unsubscribed portion at the close of the offering period Feb. 19.

Livestock Slumps

Chicago, Jan. 26 (AP)—Butcher hogs wound up 25 to 50 cents lower and sows down 50 cents in the livestock market this week. The slump came in the last three days of the week.

On Tuesday, prior to the downturn, a top of $19.65 was reached, highest since July 12, 1955. The average price for barrows and gilts at $18.81 also was the highest in 18 months.

Receipts continued small but eastern order buyers were less aggressive than in many months. The wholesale pork trade turned dull and lower both at Chicago and in the east.

Cattle receipts slumped 10 per cent for the week. Most of the supply arrived on Monday. Bulls and vealers continued scarce. Steers and heifers finished the week steady to 50 cents lower. Top for the week on prime steers was $27.25.

Closed unevenly steady to 50 cents down. While receipts were substantially smaller than in the previous week, wholesale dressed lamb price declined and the outlet to shipper buyers was quite narrow.

Losses in Grains

Chicago, Jan. 26 (AP)—Most grains suffered through several sinking spells on the Board of Trade this week, winding up with fair sized losses.

Wheat, soybeans and rye were most affected by the selling pressure. Corn and oats lost ground, but not very much. These feed grains have not experienced much of an upturn in recent months.

There were two bad days—Monday and Thursday. On the other days the market either held steady or made small gains.

Wheat closed the week 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 lower, corn unchanged to 1 1/4 lower, oats 1/4 to 3/4 lower, rye 1/4 to 3/4 lower, soybeans 2 1/2 to 5 1/2 lower and lad 48 to 65 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Indications that farmers were redeeming wheat from the government loan and offering it on the free market caused selling in old crop wheat. Export demand slackened but was expected to pick up substantially over the next several weeks.

In new crop wheat futures the main depressing factor was a little more moisture in the winter wheat belt. It wasn't possible to tell whether this was of much help to wheat. Some areas need much more than just a little moisture.

Another point which made traders cautious about new crop wheat was the big premium at which these futures are selling today over the price a year ago. July, September and December wheat are more than 30 cents above last year's price at this time.

Cotton Advances

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Cotton futures prices scored a good advance this week with a late rally providing most of the momentum.

Net gains for active contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange ranged from 30 cents to $2.25 a bale. Best showing was made by nearby March and May which scored new life-of-contract highs at the close.

Chief factors in the market's rise included trade price fixing and short covering, and a firming of spot quotations which reflected more favorable reports from the goods market. Some buying was encouraged by soil bank considerations.

Spring Fashions Announced in Paris

Offer Contrast to Winter Weather

Paris, Jan. 26 (AP)—Spring fashions have come to Paris, a city shrouded in rain and cold and slowed by fuel shortages. All we can say of the first showing is that the light suits and dresses offered a right pretty contrast.

The first show was by Gabrielle Chanel, who designed dresses for some of your mothers and still wields a chic pencil and scissors.

After seeing perhaps 30 numbers—we lost count—we would say:

The models are sort of tall—about 5 feet 9 inches with their 3-inch-heeled shoes. The dresses reach 5 or 6 inches below the knee and stay about 16 or 17 inches above the ground—including the heels.

Most of the jackets were short. Some were boleros, those little ones which don't quite come together in front and don't always reach the belt line.

Our idea was that the prettiest thing shown was a suit of white brocade with bleached gold designs. Almost tubular in design, the skirt was attached to a black silk waist. The jacket was lined with the same black silk which ran over the edge of the collar. The experts call it. Edges of the jacket were trimmed with black with a bright gold stripe.

When we asked the editor of France's largest women's magazine which number she considered the nicest, she hesitated, pointing out that it is hard to say which is best in comparing suits with dresses and dresses with spring coats.

Finally she settled for a little chiffon number which she called a Botticelli design. It was gray-white with a tiny pink rose design and a little trelis of roses around the neck line. It just shows we have no clothes judgment... didn't like it at all.

One or two numbers didn't seem to work out, including a yellow sunflower job which looked like the sort of thing my sisters used to whip together to wear to the church dances in Garland, Utah.

But you get completely out of that type with Chanel's light gray wool suit with black facing around the collar. With it went a black waist whose sleeves reached an inch below the jacket cuffs, which ended halfway between elbow and wrist. Most of the suits were that way, with short sleeves which would be mighty convenient if you had to rinse out a few glasses at cocktail party.

There were tweed suits in a yellow-tinted gray, a shantung silk suit the color of a strawberry soda, and another one of blue, like the blue in an old smoky flag.

We have a feeling Chanel designs clothes to please men, the suits, especially, which are clean cut and bristly with little trimming.

We also thought they would go well in America and were feeling pretty perky about our judgment when a French fashion writer back of us muttered with a feminine snarl:

"C'est pour une petite ville Americaine." That means "It's for a small town in America."

invite the parents of all the bridesmaids to our wedding. As I am trying to limit the number of guests, I would like to know if it is a requirement that they be invited?

Answer: The parents of your bridesmaids should definitely be invited to the church so that they can see how pretty their daughters look at the wedding. They also should be invited to the reception, if possible, unless so small as to be limited to nearest relatives.

Slacks at Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: When giving an informal dinner party for eight guests, is it permissible for the hostess to wear velvet slacks and a dressy blouse? There is some difference of opinion about this and we would like to know what you think about it.

Answer: If these guests are all intimate friends and slacks at dinner are customary in your community, there is nothing to prevent your wearing them if you have the figure for them.

Salvation Army Band, Lauded by Critics, Is Scheduled to Play in Kingston Feb. 2

Area residents will be in for a treat when they hear the Salvation Army Band and Choir concert scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 2, at 8 p. m. in the George Washington School.

The band is comprised of 35 men, under the direction of Colonel George Marshall, executive officer and Senior-Captain Richard Holz, bandmaster.

The band is a fine-balanced combination which has no counterpart in American brass band circles, and its ensemble playing can handle with equal facility reverent chorals, majestic oratorios, or dashing and brilliant fantasias and marches. It has been praised as a "symphony in brass." Bernard Shaw, during his career as a music critic, is reported as having once said that "no other medium can produce the effect of a church organ as can a Salvation Army band."

Since its organization in 1887, the Staff Band has played in hundreds of cities and towns in the United States and has visited England and Canada on several occasions. It has given recitals before eight presidents of the United States. More recently it has been heard over the Columbia Broadcasting System, the Mutual Broadcasting System, and the National Broadcasting Company networks and other major radio and television stations in New York city. The band has been featured on such well-known radio and television shows as "The Sid Caesar Hour" and "Today," with Dave Garroway.

All members of the band are officers or soldiers of the Salvation Army who are employed in various capacities at the territorial headquarters offices or at other Army centers in New York city. The bandmen receive no remuneration for their services but give their time freely to bring happiness to others through the ministry of music. They represent 50,000 Salvation Army bandmen throughout the world.

The bandmen show their versatility in the excellence of their vocal selections when they break band formation and take their positions in the Staff Band Male Chorus. Lieutenant Vernon Post, deputy bandmaster, is male chorus director.

Arthur Terwilliger, Mrs. Louisa Parham, Mrs. Florence Morehouse, Mrs. Hugh Galbraith, and Mrs. Smith.

The 'Wimbleton'... Comfortable, Modern One-Story Home

Rooms ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Eight
Cubage ..... 34,000 ft.
Dimensions ..... 33' x 67'

Designed along popular ranch house lines, the "Wimbleton," today's Home of the Week, is styled for comfort and convenience: it's planned to suit the needs of the average modern family.

Straight, simple lines distinguish this design. Decorative touches can be added by the use of blinds, as in the illustration. Multi-colored roofing and trim, contrasting with the main color of the house, also brings added appeal to the exterior. A combination finish could also be used very successfully. And, the correct landscaping can give this home a truly distinctive appearance.

A small porchway provides protection for the front entrance. The front door opens on a small vestibule where there is a good sized coat closet in which guests can hang their wraps. You'll find this closet a convenient storage spot for the family's stormy weather apparel, too.

From the vestibule we go directly into the unusually spacious living room which occupies the entire central portion of the house. A massive fireplace gives a friendly feeling to the room...a room destined to be the center of family life in the "Wimbleton." Generous window area...in both the front and back walls...bring plenty of light into the room and also add to its cheeriness.

A terrace is suggested for that part of the yard directly in back of the living room. A door from the living room leads directly to this terrace and by making this terrace as attractive as possible you can bring added beauty right into your living room. This terrace area can be used as an outdoor dining area during the warmer months.

All of the bedrooms are located in the right wing of the house...an arrangement that makes possible greater privacy for the sleeping quarters. The large modern bath is conveniently near to the bedrooms; so is the generous sized linen closet. The bedrooms are all well ventilated and each features its own closet.

Clean Shower Head For Good Spray

If the shower water in your bathroom pours instead of sprays, chances are the shower head needs cleaning. Very often, mineral deposits clog the spray holes and distort the shower stream.

To clean the holes, simply remove the shower head and poke out the dirt with a needle or pin. Then, wash the head in soap and water and replace the unit.

When removing the shower head, however, be careful not to mar the chromium fitting. It's wise to wrap a soft towel around the nut before applying a wrench.

Built-Ins End Storage Problem In Bathrooms

Is yours the kind of bathroom with lots of space, but no place to put anything?

This is typical of the old-fashioned bathroom with fixtures widely separated and nothing much but bare walls in between. The solution, of course, is some well-planned, well-designed built-ins. For instance, an old free-standing lavatory could be replaced with modern twin lavatories mounted in a countertop. The extra lavatory is a real convenience, especially during the morning rush hour, because it speeds traffic through the bathroom.

The space under the extended countertop is adaptable to a number of different storage arrangements. One section can be fitted with a pulled-out soiled clothes hamper. In fact, if desired, this can be made the opening for the laundry chute to the basement.

Another section might be fitted with hangers and drying racks and possibly a heating element to speed drying. Still other sections can be fitted with sliding storage drawers and trays, as well as special concealed medicine rack with its own lock. Hinged doors with which the cabinets of a countertop lavatory are closed hide the storage arrangements from view.

Additional storage space in the form of a recessed shelf with sliding pegboard enclosures can be built into the wall between the top of the lavatory splashback and the bottom of the twin medicine cabinets above. This space is handy for storing shaving equipment, toilet articles and accessories used daily.

Even the space above the water closet permits the installation of a storage cabinet of six cubic feet capacity. Floor-to-ceiling cabinets 24 inches wide and 16 inches deep can be built for storage of bathroom linens and cleaning supplies.

This design is approved by the VA and FHA. Complete blueprints and specifications of the "Wimbleton" are available with a money-back guarantee if for any reason the builder decides not to proceed with building plans.

Can-Opener Can Be Fastened to Cabinet

Wood kitchen cabinets and base units simplify the problem of locating the indispensable can-opener in a convenient spot. The can-opener can be fastened to wood screws directly to the side of a wood cabinet or base unit, or even to a cabinet door. If the location of the can-opener is to be changed, fill the holes left by the screws with any one of the many fillers on the market, tinting it to the color of the wood cabinet. No one will know the change was made.

Finishing Furniture

Penetrating floor seal is excellent for finishing off furniture pieces, particularly those that will receive heavy wear, such as desks, chairs and coffee tables. Penetrating seal reinforces wood fibers and is easily applied. The first coat, after it is dry, is buffed with steel wool. A second coat is applied at least twenty-four hours later.

Cleaning a Brush

Never remove the excess paint from a brush by wiping the brush on the rim of the paint container for this allows the paint to run down the outside of the container and make a mess of things. The way to get excess paint off the brush without mess is to pat the brush against the inside surface of the paint container.

Easier to Clean Now

Buffing with steel wool, with electrically driven equipment, has simplified the cleaning of hardwood floors. Smoother floors result and the smoother a floor, the easier it is to clean. Hardware dealers often rent such equipment and in many places service men will do the job at a nominal charge.

How Paint Works

Paint derives its color and opacity from particles of pigment. These particles are suspended in a vehicle that binds the coat of paint to a surface.

Driveway Patching

In case you have an asphalt driveway with holes in it, you can get a package of patching material for fixing 'em at your hardware store.

Single Major Color for Bath

Let one color monopolize your bathroom — pink, gray, blue, green or yellow—but don't mix 'em!

Bathrooms are usually the smallest rooms in the house. A riot of color would only batter your nerves in such close quarters. Even two colors in nearly equal proportion would prove disquieting after a while.

To be sure, accessories should serve as color accents, and set themselves off from the single shade background. This makes for refreshing simplicity with just enough contrast for liveliness.

According to recent reports, pink and gray still lead in bathroom tile colors. But blue, suddenly, is a color to watch. It's moving up fast.

All the popular bathroom colors, tile or otherwise, are predominantly in the pastel mood. This is because a lively and warm, yet neutral, color is desired so that color splashes in the accessories will show up better.

Using Mending Plates

Metal mending plates, often used to reinforce the joints on furniture and storm windows, will have greater holding power if they are recessed into the wood so that the top surface of the mending plate is level with the surface of the wood.

When Locks Stick

Door locks that become sticky can usually be fixed by removing them and soaking for a few minutes in a solvent such as benzene. Allow the lock to dry and then inject some powdered graphite into the works through the keyhole.

Too Much Paint

A paint roller should never be dipped into the deep part of the paint roller tray for it will pick up more paint than it can carry without dripping. Use the shallow portion of the tray for picking up the paint.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Jan. 25—Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dallas Jr. flew here Jan. 16 from Denver, Colo., where Mr. Dallas is stationed.

Cards have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Elton Tompkins from Beverly Hills, Calif.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamblet Monday at Vassar Hospital. Mr. Hamblet was formerly director of physical education in the Central School and is now located in Hudson.

At the recent annual meeting of the Highland Presbyterian Church, Arthur Mackey and Clarence Tompkins were elected elders to succeed Dr. Victor P. Salvatore and Allen Hasbrouck.

At the meeting of the North River Presbytery held in the local church last week Mr. Mackey was elected to attend the Eastern Area meeting of the National Council of Presbyterian men in New York city in February.

Trustees elected at the annual meeting were Allen Hasbrouck, Edward Krom, Alfred Coutant, John Hulsizer, Sherburne Sears.

Peter R. Burdush, a student at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., has been appointed assistant sports editor of the Brown and White, the university official periodical.

Mrs. Casper Davis was appointed secretary of the Christian Education department of the Women's Association at the meeting Thursday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church, and elected to serve on the nominating committee for next year.

Mrs. Victor Salvatore, with Mrs. Nathan Williams, alternate, Mrs. Lillian Kreth accepted a place on the finance committee. At an executive meeting previous Mrs. M. P. Busch was appointed chairman of the fellowship and Mrs. Paul Frampton of the program departments. Devotions were led by Mrs. W. S. MacColl from the general subject, Christ's Way—Every Day, and for the month, In This New Year.

Slides were shown of the church activities in the early 1920s when the Rev. George Scofield was pastor and members of his family, Miss Carol Scofield and the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Scofield, had a part. There was a picture of the Men's Bible class taught by the late Ernest L. Haight, scenes of Sunday school parties held on the church grounds and of the late Mrs. A. W. Williams, who at that time was superintendent of the Sunday school. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Frampton and Mrs. Edward Moutoux. They had a birthday cake for Mrs. Edgar Boyce.

Mrs. Mildred Percy was elected president of the Highland Council of Church Women at the annual meeting Wednesday in the Methodist Church. Serving with her are: Mrs. William Cosman, vice president; Mrs. Luther Filkins, treasurer; Mrs. Edgar Boyce, recording secretary; Mrs. Paul Frampton, corresponding secretary. Appointed by the president were Miss Emily Lent, publicity; chairman for Together and The Church Woman, Mrs. Thurlow Weed Jr. and chairman for the scrapbook, Mrs. George DuBois. The Council held a food sale Friday at DeZort's market. In charge were Mrs. Filkins, Mrs. Jacob Schulte, Mrs. Joseph Mellor, Mrs. Edgar Boyce. Receipts from the sale will be used for the Hungarian relief project, for supplies for the town nurse and other Council projects.

Mrs. Lewis Neimeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hein, Albany, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Champlin, North road.

Mrs. Andrew W. Lent presented the program Thursday night at the meeting of Chapter A, PEO featuring Founder's day. The program had been arranged by Mrs. Harold A. Lent, who was unable to be present. The seven Founders of the Sisterhood were remembered in brief sketches and a lighted candle for each.

The members received an invitation to a dessert lunch Monday from the Chapter "AX" in Poughkeepsie. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Carolyn Patterson, New Paltz and Miss Eliza Raymond. Hostesses Mrs. John F. Wadlin, Mrs. Albert Roberts, Mrs. Theodore Coelho served refreshments with Mrs. Charles Baker and Mrs. W. H. Maynard.

Miss Lillian Johnston was a recent visitor in Ramsey, N. J. due to the death of Miss Kate Mahoney who had been a resident here many years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shurtler, Marlboro, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Champlin Monday.

Mrs. Nathan D. Williams is improving from treatments at Vassar Hospital where she has been a patient for a week.

Mrs. Peter Weyant was welcomed as a member of the UD Society at the meeting Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Jesse Alexander. A letter was read from Dr. Shea relative to a hearing on a mental clinic Tuesday in Kingston, and asking for a representative from the society. Mrs. Philip Wilkoff responded to speak in favor of such a clinic. It was arranged to have Charles Ott speak on Radioactive Fallout at the next meeting, February 5 at the home of Mrs. S. D. Farnham.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Weyant, Mrs. G. F. DuBois, Mrs. Philip Wilkoff, Mrs. C. I. Richards, Mrs. Alfred Lane, Mrs. Fred Wilkoff, Mrs. Joseph Mellor, Mrs. Ruth Smalley, Mrs. Thomas Sears, Mrs. W. B. Taber, Mrs. Farnham, Misses Belle Brinkerhoff, Rowena Harcourt, Lillian Johnston, Eliza Raymond, Mrs. Rose Seaman, Mrs. Harry Thompson and the hostess.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurtler, county director Veterans' Service Agency, and William Hartman, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and their dependents.

Dividends: Payment of the 1937 National Service and U. S. Government Life Insurance dividends start this month and will be made on or about the anniversary date of each policy. The total regular NSLI dividend to be divided will be 13 per cent greater than the dividend paid last year. This should result in an average of about 13 per cent in individual dividend payments to both term and permanent plan policyholders. The USGLI policy dividend will vary, however, and some policyholders will receive more than 13 per cent while others will receive less.

The higher age group will receive most of the over 13 per cent increase while the lower age groups most of the under 13 per cent increase.

Civil Service: Applications for a competitive examination of candidates for Trooper, Executive Department, Division of State Police, scheduled to be held on Saturday, Feb. 9, must be obtained from the Division of State Police, Capitol, Albany, N. Y., and filed with the Division by mail not later than Feb. 7, 1957, and in person not later than midnight, Feb. 8. The examination will be held in various cities of the state. In general, in order to qualify, applicants must be citizens of the U. S. between the ages of 21 and 29, at least 70 inches in height and in good physical condition. They must also be graduates of a high school or possess a high school equivalency diploma. Additional information for this position may be obtained from this office.

New Laws—Payment now will be made to survivors of veterans who died after retirement or discharge and who were not paid for unused leave credit. Before this legislation was passed only living veterans could collect unused leave pay if they were discharged from the service after August 31, 1946. In the case of veterans who died before July 24, 1956, survivors must apply for the compensation by July 24, 1958. Persons who think they qualify for this benefit may contact this agency for complete information and assistance in applying for it.

Medical—A new family identification card has been developed by the Department of Defense and will have a wider range of use than the card originally planned. The new card will retain the same number, DD Form 1173, as was assigned to the original version. The dependent identification card now will be used for medical care, exchange, commissary and dental privileges. Individual DD Form 1173 cards will be issued to each armed forces dependent 10 years of age or over. A picture of the individual to whom the card is issued and identifying data will appear on each card, and each card will list the privilege for which the bearer is eligible.

Taxes—All GI Bill monetary benefits are exempt from Federal and State income tax. This would include, for example, training allowances paid to veterans in school or on-the-job training programs, and readjustment allowances. In addition, compensation, pension, insurance dividends and state veteran bonuses are also exempt.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 32 Main street, Kingston.

Gunman Gets $1,000

Lyons, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Police searched today for the gunman who robbed the Beneficial Finance Co. of nearly $1,000 yesterday. Joyce Lenhardt, a clerk, said she was alone in the ground floor office when the man pointed a gun at her and ordered her to fill a bag with money. After she did so, the man ordered her to lie on the floor while he ran from the building. She told police she didn't know whether he had an automobile waiting outside. The office manager, Lyman Loughery, was out on an errand at the time.

State Car Inspection Law

(Sixth in a Series)

Will your car pass the state safety inspection?

Based on experience in other states which have inspection programs there is a good chance it won't. In New Jersey, about one-third of the cars fail to pass on first inspection. In Pennsylvania, more than one-half are regularly found to be sub-standard. But, in most cases, only minor repairs or adjustments are needed to meet requirements.

If your car is over four years old, you'll find out in 1957 just how it rates, for cars and trucks of the 1952 and older models are subject to New York state's periodic inspection law and will be tested under a schedule starting February 1.

To make the inspections, there will be state-licensed garages in every community, identified by signs as official inspection stations. You can take your car to any one of them.

If your car meets all safety standards on first inspection, an approved inspection sticker will be placed on the lower right hand corner of the windshield and you are all set until time for the next inspection—usually 11 months later.

Choice on Repairs

If your car fails to meet State specifications for brakes, steering, wheel alignment and lights, you can do one of two things:

1—You can authorize the station to make the necessary repairs or adjustments at once so that the station can complete the job and issue the inspection sticker before your car leaves the station, or

2—You may take the car elsewhere for repairs—or perhaps make them yourself. But if a rejected car leaves the inspection station without being repaired, the station must notify the Bureau at the close of business that day, and the car must be repaired and pass a re-inspection within 10 days.

The owner of the rejected vehicle will get a notice on which the inspector will itemize the reasons for rejection. This does not authorize the owner of the rejected car to drive the vehicle if its condition is such that the operation would be illegal. Operating such a car may violate Vehicle and Traffic Law equipment requirements. If it does, the driver runs the risk of arrest, depending upon the reason for the rejection.

For example, if a car is rejected for faulty brakes and it is driven in that condition, the operator may be arrested if stopped by police or involved in an accident.

But if the car is rejected for faulty headlights, it could be driven legally in daylight hours until the expiration of the scheduled inspection month.

The re-inspection of a car originally rejected may be made at any official inspection station—not necessarily at the station where the original inspection was made. But the re-inspection must cover all inspection points and a sticker must be obtained within ten days of the original inspection.

Next—The Inspection Fees.

The other way to avoid the possibility of your car being rejected is to get a "pre-inspection" inspection. This means you take your car to your garage or repair shop and ask that it be checked and put into condition so that it will be sure to pass in the official inspection. Then have your inspection made.

In any case, don't delay getting your inspection when your car is due to be checked. Ascertain the model year of your car and then have it inspected during the month in which it is scheduled. Deferring the job may mean aggravating delays during the latter part of the month when your station may be so loaded with work that it won't be able to get to your car in time.

If your car fails to pass the initial inspection, don't put off getting it fixed and re-inspected. You have ten days, but the sooner you get your sticker the better off you are. You will know that you are driving a safer car and that you will not run the risk of suspended registration plates because of failure to get your sticker on time.

This means you take your car to your garage or repair shop and ask that it be checked and put into condition so that it will be sure to pass in the official inspection. Then have your inspection made.

In any case, don't delay getting your inspection when your car is due to be checked. Ascertain the model year of your car and then have it inspected during the month in which it is scheduled. Deferring the job may mean aggravating delays during the latter part of the month when your station may be so loaded with work that it won't be able to get to your car in time.

If your car fails to pass the initial inspection, don't put off getting it fixed and re-inspected. You have ten days, but the sooner you get your sticker the better off you are. You will know that you are driving a safer car and that you will not run the risk of suspended registration plates because of failure to get your sticker on time.

Next—The Inspection Fees.

The other way to avoid the possibility of your car being rejected is to get a "pre-inspection" inspection. This means you take your car to your garage or repair shop and ask that it be checked and put into condition so that it will be sure to pass in the official inspection. Betsy Rawls Cards 69 For Tourney Record

Lake Worth, Fla., Jan. 26 (AP)—Three strokes and one record to the good, Betsy Rawls led 23 other contenders into today's second round of the $5,000, 54-hole Lake Worth Open golf tournament.

The Spartanburg, S. C., golfer who won the Tampa Open fired a one-under-par 69 on the 5,654-yard Lake Worth course in the first round yesterday. Her 33-36 round set a women's competitive record on the tournament links.

Action Picking Up

Three Games Headline Tonight's College Slate

(The Associated Press)

The college basketball schedule, trimmed to a skeleton by mid-term exams, pick up a bit, but not much, tonight in a preview of next week's comeback.

Only three of the top 10 teams in the Associated Press poll are in business, but all three games should be pips.

Kentucky, rated No. 5, hits the road to play Vanderbilt (No. 13) in that confused Southeastern Conference race that has usually timid Tulane in first place.

Louisville at Home

Louisville, ranked No. 4, is at home to Dayton, with the flyers still able to give Louisville fits despite their fall from the mighty. These two clubs have battled into overtime in four of their last six games—including Louisville's 61-53 decision Dec. 29.

And Illinois, placed No. 9, returns to action against long-time foe Notre Dame at the Chicago Stadium.

Top ranked and unbeaten North Carolina doesn't get going again until Wednesday, against Western Carolina, Kansas, No. 2, gets back to business next Saturday against Iowa State, No. 3, and the only team to beat the Jayhawks thus far.

Oklahoma City Wins

Last night's meager offering saw Oklahoma City, Rated No. 16, pick up a 12-4 record with a 69-68 victory at Utah. Xavier of Ohio had Centenary bagged 51-29 at halftime in a 91-54 runaway; Brigham Young padded its Skyline Con. lead with a 93-76 victory over Utah State; and Dartmouth held Boston University to 18 points in the second half for a comeback 72-48 decision.

In the Pacific Coast Conference race, California retained its unbeaten share of first place with idle UCLA by defeating Stanford 67-64 in overtime. Larry Friend's easy layup with 20 seconds left in regulation time gave Cal a 61-all tie and the Bears wrapped it all in the extra session on Joe Kapp's field goal that made it 66-64.

Washington Scores

Washington defeated Oregon State 64-53 and Washington State beat Oregon 87-81 in other PCC games.

Oklahoma City, playing at Idaho State came from behind on a hook shot by 6-10 Hubert Reed that made it 66-65.

Wall collected his $1,000 as the pro member of the winning team in the pro-amateur competition for the first two rounds of the tournament.

He played with a stellar three-some of Thunderbird club members, movie actors Randolph Scott, Desi Arnaz and Los Angeles auto dealer Harrison Fisher. Their best ball score was 112. Scott, incidentally, shot one individual 69.

One stroke behind the jammed co-leaders was dangerous Cary Middlecoff, and spread within four strokes of the pace setters were seven other threats.

Souchak, Leonard Tied

Mike Souchak and Stan Leonard were tied at 136. Bo Waininger and Bob Rosburg at 137, and at 138 were Jimmy Demaret, two-time Thunderbird winner and defending champion; George Bayer and Bud Holscher.

Any of these players is enough to make a fellow lose sleep, said Wall.

Medal scoring honors yesterday belonged to Ford, the aggressive pro from Mahopac, N. Y. He shot a 64 and he was one man who got his putts down, long and short—the longest 45 feet, the shortest, one foot.

Chicago, Jan. 25 (AP)—The Chicago Bears of the National Football League today announced the signing of rangy end from the University of Tennessee's Sugar Bowl team, 6-3½, 198-pound Kyle (Buddy) Cruze.

Defending champion Pete Burke of Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., took 74 and will have a hard time overtaking the leaders.

Newburghers Planning Rival Baseball League

Ciaccio Bros. Set Meeting For Sunday

A meeting designed to sound out sentiment for a new Hudson Valley baseball league has been scheduled Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Hotel Newburgh.

Invitations have been sent to the Kingston Colonials and the Saugerties Dutchmen of the New York-New Jersey League but Manager Fred Davi of the Colonials said he would not attend. "We're in a league of our own," he said, "and it took four hard years to get it working. I see no reason for making a change now for a highly risky proposition."

Saugerties Dutchmen, reportedly irritated by the NY-NJ territorial rule which, they feel, does not give them enough latitude in the selection of players, were said to be considering sending a representative or writing a letter.

The meeting has been called by Sal and Hugh Ciacio of the Newburgh Boys Baseball Council and operators of the Newburgh Yankees, an independent affiliate of the New York Yankees.

Twelve Hudson valley communities on both sides of the Hudson river have been invited. The breakdown according to geographical location follows:

EASTERN—Ossining, Peekskill, Beacon, Poughkeepsie, Staatsburg.

WESTERN—New City, Spring Valley, Walden Dodgers, Newburgh Yankees, Kingston, Saugerties, Haverstraw.

In their letter of invitation, the Ciacio brothers stated: "It is the hope that interest in baseball will be greatly increased through the organization of a Hudson Valley league which will involve natural rivalries."

Neutral observers regard the move as the outgrowth of the bitter intra-city rivalry between the Ciacio brothers and Mayor William D. Ryan, of Newburgh, founder of the New York-New Jersey League.

Berrios-Costa Match First in Feather Tournery

New York, Jan. 25 (AP)—Tiny Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico and handsome Carmelo Costa of Brooklyn were just about set today to open the four-man featherweight elimination tournament in Madison Square Garden in March.

Acting swiftly after four major boxing groups had picked the tournament field, matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club, said today Berrios and Costa had agreed to the match.

Brown said he hoped to get commitments soon from the others. Franco's Cherif Hamia and Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria.

The four 126-pound contenders were selected yesterday to battle it out for the title vacated by retired Sandy Saddler. Hamia was ranked first and given a bye into the final round. Bassey, British Empire king, was ranked second, Berrios third and Costa fourth.

Managers Cabled

"I've cabled the managers of both Hamia and Bassey and I think everything will be okay," said Brown. "I've told Bassey that we will bring him over to meet the Costa-Berrios winner if he agrees to stay here if he wins to fight Hamia for the title."

In Paris, manager Philippe Filippi said Hamia, European champion, was ready to come to New York for the final, but he added "it is also possible that French matchmakers may make an attractive offer to hold the fight in Paris."

The make-up of the four-man field was announced by Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission. He said he had consulted with Floyd Stevens, president of the National Boxing Assn. Eduard Rabret, France, secretary-general of the European Boxing Union and J. Onslow Fane, head of the British Board of Boxing Control.

8 Under Par

This is eight under par for the Thunderbird country club's par 36-35-71 and its 6,843 yards of expensive real estate in this desert oasis.

Wall collected his $1,000 as the pro member of the winning team in the pro-amateur competition for the first two rounds of the tournament.

Catcher Says He's Fit

Campy Irked By Robby's Comments

New York, Jan. 26 (AP)—Roy Campanella figures he'll be catching for the Brooklyn Dodgers "for a long, long time yet" and adds that Jackie Robinson is "just shootin' off his mouth" if he thinks different.

In the latest of the post-retirement controversies to swirl around Robinson, Campy today said "I bet I'll catch at least 100 games for Brooklyn in each of the next three years."

The prediction, voiced in a telephone interview from his Glen Cove, Long Island, home, came when Campy was asked what he thought about Jackie's recent comment that Roy, at 35, may find it a bit tough to come back from his poor 1956 season.

Robinson's Comment

Robinson, the longtime Dodger star who quit baseball in abrupt fashion a few weeks ago, included the Campanella comment in a recent appraisal of the Dodgers' 1957 prospects.

"I'd be surprised if Jackie didn't say something like that about me," said Campanella. "He's been shootin' off his mouth about everybody—and most of the time he doesn't know what he's talking about."

"He was always stirring up stuff like this in the clubhouse, too, making a lot of trouble. I'm not going to mention incidents. I'm just saying he stirred up trouble in the clubhouse and I won't say any more about it."

Robinson on Tour

Robinson, on tour for the National Assn. for Advancement of Colored People, was not available for rebuttal.

Campy, the rotund veteran who three times has been the National League's Most Valuable Player, said he's sure he'll be back in form this season "if I can keep from being injured."

"My hand is fine. It feels great after the operation. It gave me trouble at bat before, but now it's fine. I've been swinging a bat here at home and the hand doesn't give me any trouble at all."

"I'll be okay. This is one of my years."

HoadUpset By Fraser

Melbourne, Jan. 26 (AP)—America's Shirley Fry and Althea Gibson won the women's doubles title in the Australian National tennis championships today, but their feat was overshadowed by the surprise defeat of Australia's ace, Lew Hoad, in the semifinals of the men's competition.

Hoad, the defending champion, was whipped by his countryman, Neale Fraser, 7-5, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. His hopes of a 1957 grand slam by sweeping the Australian, France, Wimbledon and United States championships thus was nipped at the very start.

The big Aussie ace, who led Australia to victory over the U. S. in the Davis Cup challenge 104 last month, apparently favored a strained back muscle.

He played below his top form. Miss Fry, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Miss Gibson, of New York, breezed to an easy 6-2, 6-1 victory over Mary Hawton and Fay Muller of Australia in the women's doubles final. The match lasted only 29 minutes.

Miss Gibson provided the power that wrecked the Aussie lasties.

Ashley Cooper qualified to meet Fraser for the men's title by beating Malcolm Anderson in the other semifinal 6-4, 9-7, 6-4.

PIECES OF EIGHT: This slang expression means 25 cents in American money. It came to us from the West Indies where they used Spanish dollars (also called pieces of eight). Dollars there were cut into eight parts or "bits", each worth 12 and one half cents in exchange for American money.

It's okay to slam on the improved power brakes in the new automobiles because 1957 models have safety belts to keep you from bashing into the wider visibility windshields that enable you to look for the two spaces necessary for parking the longer bodies needed to accommodate the more powerful engines—which is why you had to jam on those power brakes in the first place.

Malden Plowing May Be Halted

Malden-on-Hudson, two miles north of Saugerties, will have to plow its own main highway through the hamlet unless the residents remove parked cars from the street during snow plowing operations by the County Highway Department.

According to Roland H. Green, county superintendent of highways, "conditions on the pavement in the settlement of the den are such that it is practically impossible to drive a plow truck between parked cars."

Writes to Williams
In a letter to Saugerties Town Supervisor Peter M. Williams, Mr. Green has suggested that the town constable be notified to "take steps immediately to eliminate this condition or we will be forced in the future to keep the plows out of this section."

"This condition prevails mostly at night, apparently being caused by all night parking on the streets," Mr. Green said.

Posting Notices
Supervisor Williams told The Freeman this morning that he had received the notification and that he is posting notices in the Malden-on-Hudson Post Office seeking the cooperation of Malden residents in keeping cars off the streets during snow plowing operations.

Malden Postmaster James J. Maines said the letter might have been motivated by an incident a few weeks ago when a county snow plow gashed the side of his car parked in front of the Post Office. At that time there was no other car parked on the other side of the street and sufficient clearance was available for the plow he said.

Producer Is Critical
Hollywood, Jan. 26 (AP) - Actor-producer William Wyler, 38, was reported in critical condition today at Good Samaritan Hospital, Los Angeles, with a liver infection. Wyler was admitted to the hospital Monday. One of his physicians said the infection, hepatitis, came on gradually over a four or five-week period and that he now is critically ill.

Wyler's leading roles in many Hollywood films after his screen debut in 1943 in "Ox-Bow Incident." In recent years he turned to the stage, producing the Broadway hit "Lend an Ear."

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

ANOTHER TURN OF THE WHEEL

World War III could start. The chance is still against it. But the world will probably worry along, with friction in all its bearings, heating up the continents.

The Chinese now are becoming almost as big and unpredictable as the Kremlin kidnappers and murderers, and more aggressive. The Formosa thorn is pricking their side.

At home, we see movements toward the left. I'm referring to the Supreme Court and its assumed right to change the Constitution by judicial decisions.

We witness more spending, - deficits and bigger debts, - and increased labor troubles. ...Our savings in Government Bonds, life insurance, etc., are melting away, and our $'s shrinking. Business, big and little, - caught between the devil of labor bosses, and in case of war, Governmental controls, - is coasting on the slippery slopes of inflation.

Uncle Sam should read ex-President Hoover's Report on how to save, and not continue to tax our people for money unnecessarily, to give to foreign countries. Taxation, if unreasonable, along with inflation, will ruin America.

The Kremlin does not worry about remaining solvent. They repudiate internal or external debts, whenever convenient. They only smile with a gun on their hip! They're tough customers, as we have witnessed in their brutal dealings with Hungary and other captive countries. If they decide to play rough, neighbor, we had better be ready!

But let's hope it won't be necessary.

Plan to Supplement Retirement Income

By BEULAH STOWE

Only 15 per cent of the people past 65 in the United States has an annual income of $2,000 or more.

The other 85 per cent receive less: 11 per cent between $1,000 and $2,000 a year; 28 per cent, $1,000 or less; 36 per cent, no income of their own. (Figures are from "Economic Needs of Older People in the U. S.," a study sponsored by the Twentieth Century Fund.)

These bare facts hold special meaning for you, if you are within 20 years of retirement. They mean that you must plan now. Not later. They mean that when you add up your retirement income and find it lacking, you must find some way of augmenting that income. Don't wait until you are 65 and find it too late.

The only time you can afford to go out on a limb and look for supplemental income is now, while you are still working and can afford the cost of "a limb."

A woman in Maine who was concerned about her husband's approaching retirement began searching for an idea which might pay off in cash. She visited a local fish cannery and inquired about having her own special recipe of sea-food cocktail sauce canned. She visited her city hall and found out what city and federal clearances were necessary. She went to the printer and ordered labels printed for her sauce, using her own handwriting on the label. She arranged wholesale prices with her grocer on the ingredients necessary.

She went out on a limb while she could afford it. Now the limb is supporting the family.

Another couple, Mr. and Mrs. G., were accustomed to living on their salary of almost $600 a month. When he was retired in two years, they would have a total monthly income of $150. They could not stay in their present home, drive a good car, and live as they liked to live, on that sum.

Mrs. G. knew how to type. She placed an ad in the newspaper and an ad in the classified section of the phone book announcing "Jane's Letter Service." They bought stationery, a reconditioned typewriter, a second-hand desk, and a mimeograph machine, and set aside a room in their home for an office.

They now have a new electric typewriter, an addressograph and a stenographer who is paid a weekly salary. Mr. G. repairs the machines and manages the accounts. They type letters, club bulletins and manuscripts. They are "retiring" on a larger income than they have ever earned before.

Q - "I want to start a small woodwork and novelty business in my basement workshop after I retire, in four and a half years. I know I would not be happy unless I had something to do at home. Should I rent a small store to sell my products, or what?" - M. A.

A - Write to the U. S. Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., and ask for information pertaining to your type of business. Put an ad in the newspaper. Visit the best shops in your town and show them samples of your work and offer to place your goods in their shops for sale. Don't open a store of your own until you have a foothold on the business.

6 Fliers Still Missing After Mishap Over Sea

Miami, Fla., Jan. 26 (AP) - An air-sea search force was ordered back to island-studded Caribbean waters south of Cuba today in quest of three fliers missing after a training-flight collision of B47 bombing planes.

Earlier rescue of three other bomber crewmen kept hope alive for finding Maj. William E. Norris, 41, of Lansing, Mich., Capt. James H. Parker, 35, of Rock Hill, S. C., and Lt. Earl Chrisawm Jr., 26, of Sumter, S. C.

To Check Wreckage
The search planes and ships were augmented by a ground party organized to investigate reports of wreckage on Isle of Pines, off Cuba's western tip. Navy divers were to probe what looked like sunken wreckage near Islas De Mangres, near Isle of Pines.

It was on and around Islas De Mangres that air force reserve fliers, based 325 miles northeast in Miami, rescued Maj. James M. McFarland Jr., 37, of Watsonville, Pa., Maj. Winfred E. Lynn, 33, of Paducah, Ky., and Lt. James E. Rose Jr., 28, of Dallas, Tex., yesterday.

Are Interviewed
McFarland, Lynn and Rose, hospitalized at Key West for shock, were interviewed by air force officials who are investigating the collision of the two stratojet bombers which were part of a group executing a mass refueling exercise over Isle of Pines Thursday night.

No information obtained from the rescued men was disclosed at once.

To Call Pawling Man

Washington, Jan. 26 (AP) - Government investigators said today that Robert Ducaus of Pawling, N. Y., will be among investor witnesses who will be summoned soon to an inquiry into a four million dollar debenture sale by Crowell-Collier Publishing Co. A New York investor, Ducaus is recorded as having purchased $80,000 worth of the firm's debentures. Some of these Ducaus securities according to Edward L. Elliott, the broker who sold the bonds, were turned over to former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Settlement Fails

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 26 (AP) - A five-hour negotiations meeting last night failed to produce a settlement of the five-day-old American Motors Corp. strike that idled 6,500 production workers, but another session was scheduled for today. A spokesman for AMC, producer of Nash, Hudson and Rambler automobiles, declined to say what progress might have been made toward settlement, or what issues have been discussed. It was the first negotiations session since the strike began last Tuesday.

Reds Hold Britons

Budapest, Jan. 26 (AP) - Communist Hungary announced today it is holding four young Britons - one a granddaughter of the late Sir Stafford Cripps - for trial on espionage charges. The announcement was the first official word on the four, missing since they entered Hungary from Yugoslavia about 10 days ago to do relief work. They are Judith Cripps, 19, whose grandfather was a leader in the Labor party; Roger Cooper, 21; nephew of poet Robert Graves; Christopher Lord, 21, and his brother, Basil, 23. Miss Cripps, Cooper and the younger Lord are students at Oxford.

Search Returns To Skid Row for Clues on Girls

Chicago, Jan. 26 (P)—The relentless search for clues in the murder of the Grimes sisters sent police back into skid row district today after persistent reports the girls had been seen there many times after their disappearance from home.

Two men, both reported as habitués of the West Madison St. skid row section, were held for questioning in connection with the slaying of the Grimes sisters, Barbara, 15, and Patricia, 13.

Two Men Held

The men held are Edward Lee (Bennie Bedwell), 21, formerly of Paris, Tenn., a part-time dishwasher in a skid row restaurant, and Richard W. Whittemire, 28, who police said at one time worked with Bedwell in a factory.

Bedwell has been identified by several persons as having been with the girls and another man on West Madison St. shortly after the sisters were reported missing from their south side home Dec. 28.

The girls' nude, frozen bodies were found Tuesday in a ditch near suburban Willow Springs. The cause and date of their deaths has not been determined.

Two Picked Up

Police said a 19-year-old girl of Indian descent, Irene Dean, last night told them she and a cousin, Carol King, 18, were picked up by Bedwell and a companion Dec. 29 or 30. She said they were in a Madison street restaurant and theater, as Bedwell had claimed earlier in denying he had been with the Grimes girls.

Bedwell, police said, admitted he and a man whose name he did not know accompanied two girls on a round of bars on West Madison street on the night of Dec. 28 and morning of Dec. 29. The girl he was with, he said, was named Carol.

Police said Whittemire, who is separated from his wife and is the father of two children, does not fit the description of Bedwell's companion the night he escorted the girls. They said he came to Chicago last November from Mansfield, Ohio, where his mother lives, and met Bedwell in December. Whittemire told investigators Bedwell had invited him on a double date several weeks ago but he refused.

Moore to Quit Post

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (P)—Solicitor General James O. Moore Jr. says he will resign, probably at the end of the current legislative session. He said yesterday he would rejoin his Buffalo law firm. Moore, second ranking official in the law department, said he had agreed to stay a year and a half when appointed 20 months ago by Republican Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits. Moore was mentioned prominently as a successor to Javits when the latter was elected U. S. senator. The Republican-controlled legislature named Louis J. Lefkowitz attorney general Jan. 9.

Guilty Plea Is Entered by Bando In Riesel Attack

New York, Jan. 26 (P)—Domenico Bando, charged with conspiracy and maiming in the acid-blinding attack on labor columnist Victor Riesel, has pleaded guilty to second-degree assault.

Bando, 47, interrupted his General Sessions Court trial yesterday to enter a guilty plea. It was the second day of his trial, with three jurors having been sworn in.

Faces 5 More Years

Bando, already serving five years in prison on federal charges in connection with the attack last April outside a Broadway restaurant, faces a maximum of five additional years in jail.

Judge John A. Mullen set sentencing for Feb. 21—the same date set for sentencing Gondolfo (Sheikie) Miranti, 38, who pleaded guilty to the state maiming charge Jan. 21.

Miranti also is serving five years in prison and was fined $10,000, after being convicted with Bando on federal charges of obstructing justice in the Riesel case.

Joseph Carlinio, 43, pleaded guilty in the federal case and testified against Miranti and Bando.

Has Separate Trial

Carlinio, also charged with conspiracy and maiming, has pleaded innocent. He was granted a separate trial Thursday. No date has been set.

Awaiting Federal Court trial on conspiracy charges are 42-year-old labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi, alleged mastermind in the Riesel attack, and three other men.

More Women Registered

New York, Jan. 26 (P)—Board of elections figures show more women than men registered to vote in New York city in 1956. The board's figures, released yesterday, also showed that more women than men enrolled as Republicans—but that men outnumbered women in the Democratic enrollment. Last year 1,672,208 women registered. The men's total was 1,618,319. In 1951, women led the men by a margin of less than 1,000. Republican enrollments: Women, 500,331; men, 422,644. Democratic enrollments: Women, 1,040,339; men, 1,046,733.

4 Soldiers Killed

London, Jan. 26 (P)—Four British soldiers died when their armored car skidded off an ice-covered road in southern Scotland and plunged 50 feet down an embankment into a river. One soldier was killed when he was thrown from the vehicle yesterday. The others were trapped inside the car and drowned.

Upstate Man Heads Science Teacher Group

Corning, N. Y., Jan. 26 (P)—D. R. Yates of Skaneateles has been elected president of the Science Teachers Assn. of New York state, succeeding William R. Clemons of Cortland.

Other officers named last night were: James Zobian of Roslyn Heights, first vice president; Frank Robinson of Schoharie, second vice president; and Mrs. Madeline Snyder of Canastota, secretary.

The association's "Fellow Award" was presented to Miss Marianne Russell of Perry for her work as a science teacher.

The two-day meeting ends today. About 150 persons attended.

Cypriots Extend 24-Hour Strike

Nicosia, Cyprus, Jan. 26 (P)—Greek Cypriots carried their latest general strike into its second day today, ignoring advice of their own leaders to hold the work stoppage to 24 hours.

The strike was called to protest recent violence and property damage in clashes between Turkish youths and Greek Cypriots. The Greeks charged British authorities did not act fast enough to quell the violence.

Only banks and a few shops reopened in response to the back-to-work call of the island's Greek mayors. Other Greek-owned shops remained shuttered.

Greek Cypriots, who make up four-fifths of the British colony's population, want to unite the island with Greece. The Turkish minority has backed continued British rule.

A special court sentenced two Greek Cypriot youths today to 15-year prison terms for throwing bombs at a British army camp last October. Two others were acquitted.

Hudson Falls Man Heads Highway Group

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 26 (P)—Ralph McKernon of Hudson Falls is the new president of the New York State County Highway Superintendents Assn. He is Washington county highway director.

Also elected yesterday at the final session of the 46th annual conference were: John Coffrey, Clinton county, and Robert Carrier, Genesee county, vice presidents; Nelson Hall, Rockland county, treasurer, and Harry R. Mason, Montgomery county, secretary.

McKernon succeeds Edwin Bayard of Onondaga county, who was named to a three-year term on the executive committee.

F. Ray Williams of Saratoga county was re-appointed chairman of the Legislative committee.

Beatings Forced Him to Admit Slaying: Salesman

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 26 (P)—Edward F. Eckwerth, 29, accused of murdering a Yonkers school teacher, says police beatings forced him to admit the crime.

Eckwerth is on trial in the slaying last June 22 of Miss Rosemary Spezzo, 24, who was beaten to death with a rock in a wooded area near Greenburgh, N. Y.

When police arrested him last Aug. 25, Eckwerth testified yesterday, one officer beat him with a rubber hose and three others slapped him with their open hands.

"Just a Sample" Eckwerth said the officers told him: "That's just a sample of what you're going to get."

Eckwerth said he finally broke down and told them, "I'll lead you to the body."

Eckwerth—who resumes testimony Monday—has not denied leading police to the girl's body.

Eckwerth has testified that he was with the girl the day she disappeared. He said he fled the state the day after her death because "I was scared."

Ike Takes it Easy At Mountain Retreat

Thurmont, Md., Jan. 26 (P)—President Eisenhower took it easy today at Camp David, his retreat in Maryland's Catoctin mountains.

The President motored here from Washington yesterday, arriving about mid-afternoon. This is Eisenhower's first visit since December 1955 to the camp, named for his 11-year-old grandson.

On the way, Eisenhower and his weekend guests stopped for an hour and a half at his farm at nearby Gettysburg, Pa., where they walked around and inspected the chief executive's herd of black Angus cattle.

The President's guests are Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, and George E. Allen, onetime Truman administration official who has a farm near the Eisenhower place.

Traveling in a separate car, Mrs. Eisenhower, Mrs. Gruenther and Mrs. Allen arrived at Camp David shortly after the menfolk.

Die in Ice Box

San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 26 (P)—Grover Earl Emery, 5, and his 4-year-old sister, Elen Irene, died yesterday while trapped in an abandoned ice box on the front yard of their home. There were three abandoned ice boxes on the lawn. The children's father, James M. Emery, 34, a mechanic, said he warned the children Thursday not to play with the ice boxes.

Hunt Continues For Bodies in New Haven Fire

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 26 (P)—Workers today return to the grim task of searching flame-seared rubble for the bodies of two men and two women missing in Thursday's loft building fire which took a toll of five known dead and 31 injured.

While they carefully break through the now-frozen rubble in their search they will be joined by investigators seeking the cause of the fire which spread so swiftly through the 85-year-old four-story brick structure that most of those who did escape were barely able to do so.

Cause Not Determined Fire Marshal Eugene Mulligan said "I have no idea" what caused the fire.

It could have started, he said, in a pile of cardboard boxes and waste paper stacked in a first floor hallway to await removal. The horrible speed with which it spread was helped by wooden floors long impregnated by oil from some of the manufacturing process carried on in the ancient building.

But Mulligan foresaw a lot of patient searching and questioning before the official answer will be found. There are 103 survivors of the disaster, 31 of them injured, 10 critically.

Fearfully Burned 'They were the employees of the five firms, including three dress manufacturers which occupied the building. Some of them already have told their stories. It will be some time before others do, if at all. They are too fearfully burned. Most of them were employees of the dress shops that occupied the upper floors of the building.'

Missing are Thelma Lynn of New Haven; Joseph Nastri of North Haven, co-owner with his wife, Josephine, of one of the dress factories; and Morris Baer, of New Haven.

Mrs. Nastri said the last she saw of her husband he was wrapped in flames at the second floor landing of the fire escape down which she and many of her 25 employees safely fled the blazing building.

Six Are Killed In Plane Crash

Bryan, Tex., Jan. 26 (P)—Six persons died yesterday when a twin-engine Beechcraft plane crashed and burned in rainy, weather after one of its engines failed.

The plane crashed in an open field, and Bryan Air Force officers said all passengers were dead when air force crash crews arrived.

Dead were Rob Pomeroy, the pilot; Jim Thornton; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cray, all of Oklahoma City, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thompson of Houston, Tex.

Oil Firm Plane The plane belonged to the Sohio Oil Co. of Oklahoma City. It took off from the Houston Airport at 7:28 p. m. bound for Oklahoma City.

The control tower at Eastwood Air Field here said that at 7:57 the pilot radioed that he had lost an engine and was going to attempt an emergency landing. The tower fixed the time of the crash at 8:18.

Thompson, 32, was a trainee in paleontology for the Sohio Company. He had been in Houston since last summer. Houston Sohio Petroleum officials said Cray was a superintendent of exploration for Sohio.

He was transferred from Houston to Billings, Mont., in 1953, and recently moved to Oklahoma City. Thornton, about 23, was editor of the Sohio Production News.
